Hoover Registration Urged By Women

Enthusiastic Group Hard At Work At Newton Corner

On Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Samuel N. Braman, 187 Park street, there gathered a representative and enthusiastic group of women determined to secure the largest possible registration in the village of Newton of those pledged to vote for the election of Herbert Hoover.

Mrs. Edward Maguire, as herself a manufacturer and employer of labor, urged her hearers to show helpful-ness and interest in registering the foreign born.

Mrs. Braman described briefly the work of registration to be completed by October 17th. Many questions showing keen interest were asked and answered. About twenty five women were present, and numerous others who could not attend have signified their willingness to assist.

Mrs. Sanuel N. Perman Mrs. Wil.

Goode, went to Nonantum, laid in wait outside a house, and quietly arrested 12 alleged shoplifters as they approached the place in automobiles. The house was the residence of a man, who, according to the police has been acting as a "fence" for clothing, furs, jeweiry and other articles stolen from Boston stores. For the past several months Inspector Goode and detectives of the Stores Mutual Protective Association of Boston have been working on this case and secret indictments had been returned by the Middlesex County Grand Jury against those arrested, most of whom, it is claimed have criminal records. Among those taken into custody as they arrived near the Nonantum rendezvous were—Joseph DeMorro, 52 Putnam street, East Boston; Charles and Teresa Sarro, 84 Everett street, East Boston; Edward and Jennie Sarro, 170 Everett street; Joseph and Mary Sarro, 167 Princeton street; Joseph and Mary Sarro, 167 Princeton street; Joseph and Mary Sarro, 167 Princeton street; Joseph sare and Celia DeRosa, 362 Bremen street; Charles Lamarco, Maverick street; Angie Valani, 81 Cottage street, all of East Boston. The prisoners ranged in age from 12 years to 40.

The "mob" arrived in three cars, which as they neared the place where they were to dispose of the loot, were boarded by Newton police and escorted to police headquarters at West Newton.

NEWTON SWAMPS BELMONT 26 TO 0

Newton high opened the 1928 football season last Saturday on Claffin field swamping Belmont high 26 to 0 and ending a string of victories for Belmont high which was begun with the opening of the 1926 season. The orange and black first team did all the scoring but the second string players and even some of the third string men more than held their own against the opponents. Although Belmont was a far inferior team than Newton and the large score indicates such a fact Newton showed a powerful line and an even more powerful backfield that should make it one of the contenders for the Suburban league title and possibly even higher honors this fall. There were many penalties imposed upon the orange and black the causes for which will soon be removed. Most of them were offside play and as the season progresses the eleven players will act more as a unit than they did Saturday.

season progresses the eleven players will act more as a unit than they did Saturday.

Belmont won the toss and elected to receive the ball. Daniel Harrington kicked off to Belmont's 20-yard line and it was run back to the 35-yard line where Payne brought the runner down. Three plays netted nine yards and then the Newton line held to take the ball on downs. Gilligan and Pescosolido each made four yards on line plays and a pass from Gilligan to Duane netted 15 more and a first down. The ball was near the sideline and Gilligan was forced outside on the next play. A pass from Gilligan to Pescosolido was good for 8 yards and then Gilligan made it first down again through tackle. Duane was thrown for a two yard loss outside the field and Pescosolido got back this distance. On this play one of the Newton linesmen was holding and the team drew a 15-yard penalty. A pass from Gilligan to Payne got back this distance and then Pescosolido gained three more. It was fourth down and still about ten yards to go so Gilligan dropped back to his 25-yard line and essayed a field goal which went just outside the uprights. Belmont put the ball in play on their 20-yard line and on fourth down was forced to kick to Perry at midfield. The Newton quarterback, aided by some good interference, reeled off a pretty broken field run of nearly 35-yards before he was brought down from behind near the 15-yard line. Newton was not to be denied a score and Duane slipped through tackle, shook off a couple of tacklers and crossed the goal line. Gilligan's try at goal was just outside.

Harrington again kicked off to Belmont's 20-yard line and it was returned to the 25-yard line and entered a score and Duane slipped through tackle, shook off a couple of tacklers and crossed the goal line. Gilligan's try at goal was just outside. Reilly intercepted a Belmont forward on the 25-yard line but two penalties set the orange and black back so Andres was forced to kick. Belmont could not gain and returned the punt to midfield. Part of Newton's first team was now in the line-up but Belmont was playing a good defensive game and Gilligan was forced to kick. The rest of Newton's first string players came back to the line-up and the visitors could not gain. Perry received a Belmont punt at midfield and ran it back ten yards. Gilligan romped 20 yards through a big hole at tackle and Duane made two yards through the line. Pescosolido found another big hole at tackle and crossed the goal the again. Gilligan kicked the goal to raise Newton's total to 26 points.

Harrington kicked off to Belmont's

Harrington again kicked off to Belmont's 20-yard line and it was returned to the 35-yard line. Belmont made a first down in two plays. The next play netted four yards. Chamberlain, Newton centre, stopped the next rush on the scrimmage line. The third play netted five yards and the next was hy of a first down by but six inches. It was Newton's ball on their own 45-yard line, Gilligan made six inches. It was Newton's ball on their own 45-yard line. Gilligan made five yards and Duane one to end the quarter.

Pescosolido made four yards on the first rush when play was resumed. Gilligan then punted to the corner of the field and Payne tackled the Belmont safety man in his tracks on the 5-yard line. Belmont made a first down in three plays. On the second play following the Belmont halfback was tackled so hard that the ball flew out of his arms right into the hands of Pescosolido, Newton fullback who was right in on top of the play. Without being forced to break his stride he Newton back raced the twenty ards for the second score. Gilligan's y at goal was successful.

Harrington kicked off to Belmont's 20-yard stripe and it was run back ten yards. Belmont kicked on third down to Perry, who was standing on his 35-yard mark and he ran it back tourteen yards. Newton was pen-alized for offside play and Gilligan ran the end for a twenty-one-yard gain. Perry bucked the line for twelve yards for the final play of the game.

Harrington again kicked off for Newton and the Belmont back was downed on his 30-yard stripe. Belmont drew a 5-yard offside penalty and then kicked to Andres, who had replaced Perry, on the Newton 35-yard line. Andres ran it back to midfield. Two plays were of no avail and two penalties forced Newton back so that Gilligan kicked to the Belmont 40-yard mark where the Belmont safe-ty man touched the ball after it hit the ground, making it a free ball. Harrington recovered it for Newton. Relly, Duane and Andres made a first down. Gilligan gained a yard. A pass from Relly to Andres was incomplete but a pass from Duane to Gilligan was good for 20 yards. Relly gained a yard, as did Andres and Furdon, the latter replacing Relly to bring the ball to the two-yard line. Unane slid through tackle for the third touchdown. Gilligan's try at the goal was blocked and the score was Newton 19 Belmont 0.

Jones, who had replaced Robblee at guard, kicked off for Newton, as Harrington had been relieved by McEnany. One of the Newton forwards was offside so Newton kicked over from their 35-yard line. The Belmont runner was brought down on his 40-yard line as the half ended. Most of Newton's first string players were taken out for a rest and at the end of the half the team was composed of second and third string players.

Jones kicked off again to start the second half. Boughan, diminutive Newton guard, who had taken the place of Annese, stopped the first three plays with hard but clean tackles and Belmont was forced to kick to Andres on his 40-yard line. Flurdon, playing fullback for Newton reeled off a first down in two plays. Bell made another five yards but the line was offside and a 5-yard penalty was imposed. A pass was incompleted and Andres kicked to Belmont's 25-yard line. The first play netted two more and Belmont kicked to midfield. Andres, Furdon and Bell made six yards in three plays and Andres punted. The Belmont forwards hurried the kick and it went outside at Belmont's 40-yard mark. OPEN LEAGUE WITH CANTABS

Newton high and Cambridge Latin open the Suburban league season on Russell field, Cambridge, at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon. Newton, with an impressive showing against Belmont last Saturday is a heavy favorite to win over the MacDonald coached outfit which has lost both of its games. The Cantabs have an inexperienced team that later on in the season should make trouble for several of the league members in the quest for the chamiponship but it is hard to see how they can stop Newton.

Coach Sullivan's squad is in fine shape through the watchfulness and care of Trainer Frank Simmons. The only member on the injured list at present is Bill Andrea who her his in at Cambridge Lat-ir, Oct. 12—*Everett at Ev-erett. Sat., Oct. 6-*Cambridge Lat-Sat., Oct. 20-Beverly at Beverly, care of Trainer Frank Simmons. The only member on the injured list at present is Phil Andres, who hurt his knee quite severely in scrimmage this week against Browne & Nichols. He will be lucky if he is in shape to play in the Everett game a week from today and it is possible that the injury will not mend until even later in the month.

will not mend until even later in the month.

The Newton mentor will probably start the same team that took the field against Belmont last Saturday. That is Captain Scheinfain, le; Dave Hapgood, It; Harold Robblee, Ig; Arthur Chamberlain, c; William Annese or John Boughan, rg; Daniel Harrington, rt; Norman Payne, re; Frank Perry, qb; Francis Duane, lhb; Joe Gilligan, rhb; Carl Pescosolido, fb.

Apparently the only starting position left open is that at right guard where William Annese and John Boughan are giving each other stiff competition. Annese starred against Belmont but Boughan went in about the middle of the second quarter and played the rest of the game. Although he cost the team many yards in penalties through his overzealousness it can be laid to inexperience. He will learn if given time. He made a big hit with the fans by smearing the first three plays in the second half before they had a chance to get started.

SPORT NOTES

Gilligan To Be Reserve

Gilligan To Be Reserve

Tommy Gilligan, who has been one of the luminaries in the Harvard varsity scrimmages will probably be held in reserve for either Captain Arthur French, halfback or Eliot Putnam, quarterback, Gilligan has been used at both positions. As a quarterback the former Newton star can do more things than Putnam, who is purely and simply a quarterback, trained to choose the right play, a sure safety man on the defence and a reliable punt catcher and interferer. Gilligan is a real triple threat, is Harvard's best man on either end of a forward or as a drop kicker. Putnam's experience will probably give him the starting call in the opening til with Springfield tomorrow but Gilligan will be in the game before it is very old. It would not be surprising to see Tom win the regular quarterback berth before the season is very far along despite Putnam's value. Guy Holbrook will be lucky if he can get in shape for the Yale game. During a scrimmage last week the former Newton youth, who showed considerable promise last fall until injured, hurthis knee again. Last spring after the hockey season ended Holbrook underwent an operation on the knee and although the operation was successful the knee was quite badly injured.

Hunnefield Ends Season with .311 Bill Hunnefield, local product with the Chicago White Sox, ended the season with a batting average of .311, according to the final official averages released earlier this week, standing in 34th place. He took part in 91 games, was at bat 318 times, scored 40 runs,
and hit safely 99 times. Of the 99 hits, nine were two baggers, two triples and four circuit blows. He had 11 stolen bases and 6 sacrifice hits. In the field "Honey" had an average of .970 with 170 putouts, 243 assists and but 12 errors. Hunnefield Ends Season with .311

Newton's line showed power. Boughan stopped three plays in a row to start the second half. He was a little over anxious though and several of the penalties can be charged to him. With more experience the little lad should become a valuable player to Newton. Scheinfain, Payne, Harrington and Robblee played their usual good game while Chamberlain at centre and Hapgood at tackle, the other first string men were wide awake all the time.

Many of the substitutions in the line brought out the fact that the orange and black has some good reserve strength on hand to call upon in case of injury.

branch of the Red Cross:

"The Red Cross never issued a disaster appeal which more fully justified the smashing of quotas and goals than now and the Red Cross has a clear record on conservatism in appeals. We have seriously considered raising the amount requested but have felt it getter to urge each chapter to reach its goal and then double it rather than to indicate a larger national and local quota."

and local quota."

More than a half million persons who were victims of the West Indies hurricane in Porto Rico, Virgin Islands and Florida, are still dependent upon the American Red Cross for daily sustenance and in Porto Rico will still be so for an additional thirty days. Between 1,000 and 1,500 tons of foodstuff is now being distributed weekly.

CITY AFFAIRS

Last year the city constructed a tunnel under Elm road at a large expense to enable pupils at the Newton High School to travel from the Classical High School building to the buildings south of Elm road without being exposed to the cold, rain and snow or endangered by automobile traffic. Also this tunnel would eliminate the necessity of the pupils putting on their overcoats, hats and other protective garments. Now, that the expensive tunnel is completed and in use, residents of Elm road and adjoining streets are asking why is it necessary to still have the road closed to traffic while the high schools are in session?

Henry G. Frothingham of 79 Kenwood avenue, Newton Centre, has peti-tioned that traffic on Homer street be tioned that traffic on Homer street be restricted.

Louis Vassalotti of the Riverside Sand and Gravel Company has offered the city $1300 for land on Florence street, Newton Centre.

The Aldermen on Monday night voted to authorize Chief Randlett of the Fire Department to employ two temporary men for substitute work in the department.

A petition has been received from Louis Young and others to regulate trucking on Grove street. The constant procession of heavy gravel trucks on this street has been, for years, a source of annoyance to residents on it.

source of annoyance to residents on it.

Petitions received by the Board of Aldermen and referred to the Public Works Committee Include—Boston Consolidated Gas Company, permit to lay main in Boylston street from Chestnut street to the Charles River; G. C. Ross, laying out of Fenwick road; Lillian Watson, laying out of Whitney road; Oak Hill Trust, laying out of Arnold road; Fuller Appleton, sewer in Beethoven road; Vincent Squiers, sewer in Intervale road; R. A. Hawks, sewer in Valentine park.

A petition has been received from Elsa Johnson asking that Waltham street from River street to Ellot avenue be changed from private to single residence zone.

WANTED POLLS OPEN LATER

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night, Alderman Powers moved that on election day, November 6, the polls in Newton be kept open until 7 o'clock instead of closing at 4:30. He referred to the efforts which have been made to bring out a larger percentage of the voters on election days, alluding to the attempt started by the American Legion a couple of years ago under the lead of Col. Stopford, Alderman Baker opposed such a change. He argued that it will mean more expense to the city and will lessen the efficiency of the election officers; he cited the inaccuracy of the election returns in Boston as a result of working precinct officers too long. No alderman seconded the motion, so the voting places in Newton will continue to close at 4:30 p. m.

MISSION SERVICES AT NEWTON

A mission has been conducted at the Church of Our Lady, Newton, during the past two weeks by members of the Redemptorist Order. Last week the services were for the women of the parish. This week the services are for the men of the parish. Large congregations have been attending both the morning and night services. The mission will conclude next Sunday afternoon. next Sunday afternoon.

The proposed new Grammar School for the Claffin District, is to be located on the west side of Cabot Park, Newtonville, and is bounded by Park-view avenue on the east, Cabot street on the south and Bridges avenue on the west. It is a building of first class construction throughout, except the roof, which is of second class, frame construction. It has been planned to accommodate twelve class rooms, an Auditorium, Kindergarten and Administration offices and subsidiary rooms. At each end of the building are steel stairs together with a separate outside stone staircase leading directly from the Kindergarten.

a separate outside stone staircase leading directly from the Kindergarten.

The building is designed in the Tudor Gothic style and is to be built of dark red waterstruck brick, cast stone trimmings and a slated, pitch roof. The ventilating tower carries out the spirit of the design and breaks the otherwise long roof line. The two main entrances are at each end of the building, purposely marked architecturally in stone. These entrances open directly into the main stair wells connecting all floors and from which lead the corridors.

The Basement, a full story height off the ground, contains the Auditorium seating about 350 people with its small stage and dressing room and chair storage, Boys' and Girls' Play Rooms and Toilets with separate exits to the respective Play Yards at each end of the building, Store Rooms, Boiler Room, Coal Storage, Pump and Electric Rooms. The Boiler Room, Coal Pocket and Pump Room are the only rooms carried below grade and are suitably waterproofed in consequence.

Six class rooms are located on each are suitably waterproofed in consequence.

Six class rooms are located on each floor above the Ground Floor, with Boys' and Girls' Toilets at each end of the building. The Kindergarten is on the first Class Room floor and has its own exit to the kindergarten play yard on the Cabot Park side of the building. Much thought has been given to this department in order to make school life as attractive as possible to the younger pupils. The room is divided by a sliding partition so as to accommodate two classes, if necessary. At the end of the room is a fireplace and mantel with benches, bookcases, etc. On the stone balustrade of the outside stairs is perched Humpty-Dumpty, dear to the hearts of all small children.

The Administration quarters are on the second class room floor over the kindergarten and consist of the Principal's Office and Lobby, Teachers' Room, Book Room, Clinic, Hall and Toilets.

At the Directors' meeting of The Newton Young Men's Christian Association held last Tuesday evening. President F. D. Fuller called attention to the fact that the General Secretary, Mr. H. W. Bascom, began his work in Newton just twenty-five years ago. He asked Mayor Edwin O. Childs, who has been a Director all through Mr. Bascom's term of office, to speak about the work of the Newton Association during these twenty-five years.

to speak about the work of the Newton Association during these twenty five years.

There have been four presidents during this period of Association history; Mr. S. M. Sayford was president from 1903 to 1908. Mr. Sayford gathered around him a group of young men as directors who were afterwards responsible for the development of the work of the Association. Mr. Allan C. Emery was President from 1908 to 1915. It was during his term that $157,000 was raised for the new building which was erected and occupied in October, 1911. From 1915 to 1921 Mr. C. D. Kepner was President, and during his term of office Association work developed rapidly. Perhaps the outstanding feature of this period was the purchase and growth of Camp Frank A. Day for boys. Mr. P. D. Fuller, who now holds the office of President was chosen in 1921. It was during his term of office that the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Association was observed and a 50th Anniversary Fund raised last May.

Mr. C. V. Moore, who was also present at the Directors' meeting held twenty-five years ago in Eliot Block, then presented Mr. Bascom with a beautiful basket of roses to commem-beautiful basket of roses to commem-orate this occasion.

Mr. Bascom in responding, thanked the Directors for the beautiful flowers and called attention to the loyalty that the Directors had always shown toward the work of the Association and the splendid co-operation which had been given through all these tweny-five years to the Secretaries of the Association

EDITORIAL

Cone of the phases of the presidential campaign which we fail to understand is the tendency of former stalwart Republicans towards Governor Smith. If it is due to the issue of prohibition, we can appreciate that standpoint, although every thinking person realizes that Mr. Smith can donothing towards changing the law and can only make matters worse by reducing the present insufficient amount of enforcement of that law. We can also understand the attitude of those Republicans if it is due to the matter of religion, as we have little sympathy with those who are making it an issue. But outside of those two matters, there is still left one of the most vital of all issues, one which in our opinion over shadows all other and one which ought to appeal to all Republicans, namely—the menace of Tammany. We fail to see why any Republican can aid and assist in placing Tammany controlled judges on the Supreme court of the United States—can view with equanimity, the appointment of Tammany heelers to important offices such as district attorneys and clerks of courts and consent to the extension of organized graft from New York city to the national capitol. Tammany in our opinion is the power behind Governor Smith's candidacy and will be a potent factor in national affairs if he is elected as president.

with seventeen members. Mr. Marshall S. Rice was selected as leader. The class was connected with the Needham Circuit Meeting House, in what is now Wellesley. During that same year 1828 the Upper Falls Religious Society and the Proprieters of the Upper Falls Meeting House was incorporated.

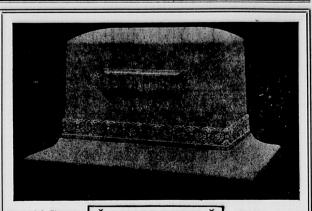

Frequent Preaching Services were held. The class met regularly.

In the year 1832 the class was organized as a church by the Rev. A. D. Merrill. In December of that year the Unitarian Society offered their church for sale, and it was purchased by Mr. Marshall S. Rice for the use of the newly organized Methodist Episcopal Church.

During the year 1834 the property was transferred to a Board of Trustess, Mr. Marshall S. Rice taking a note for $3,250 without interest. It was during this year that the church was enlarged by the addition of twenty pews.

From the Methodist Society at Newton Upper Falls the following churches were formed: Watertown Church 1838; Newton Lower Falls and Highlandville Church 1867; Newton Centre Church 1877. (From Souvenir History of New England Conference.)

Christian Science Lecture

A Lecture, Entitled "Stepping-Stones In Christian Science", by Prof. Hermann S. Hering, C. S. B., of Boston, member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., was given in First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newton, Mass., Monday and Tuesday Evenings, October 1st and 2nd,

A Christian Science Lecture by Pro-fessor Hermann S. Hering, C. S. B., was heard by two large audiences at the Christian Science Church at the corner of Walnut and Otis streets, Newtonville, or Mediav and Transfar. Newtonville, on Monday and Tuesday veenings. The subject: "Stepping-Stones in Christian Science," with its presentation of the progressive devel-opment of an understanding and appli-cation of Christian Science, was closely followed by the audiences on the two successive evenings.

Mr. Francis W. Davis of Waban, the First Reader of the Newton Church, introduced the lecturer Monday evening, and Mrs. Eva Stickney Johnson, the Second Reader, made the introduction Tuesday evening. Mr. Davis spoke as follows:

lingered. I always have been most grateful to him.

You will find in listening that, unlike other sciences, Christian Science is a science of Love. As such, the mere hearing and thinking about this lecture has the power to bring Love's healing blessing to you in the measure that you need it.

This same professor who helped me is the speaker of the evening, Professor Hermann S. Hering, of Boston, a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. The title of his lecture is "Stepping-Stones in Christian Science." I now take great pleasure in introducing Professor Hering to you.

Professor Hering spoke as follows:

Professor Hering spoke as follows:

We are all interested in the attainment of health and harmony. When we wish to accomplish something, to attain an end or a desired goal, we first find the way and if we wish to be successful, we follow that way.

"To those leaning on the sustaining infinite, today is big with blessings. The wakeful shepherd beholds the first faint morning beams, ere cometh the full radiance of a risem day. So shone the pale star to the prophet-shepherds; yet it traversed the night, and came where, in cradled obscurity, lay the Bethlehem babe, the human herald of Christ, Truth, who would make plain to benighted understanding the way of salvation through Christ Jesus, till across a night of error should dawn the morning beams and shine the guiding star of being. The Wisemen were led to behold and to follow this daystar of dien. The Wisemen were led to behold and to follow this daystar of dien. The Wisemen were led to behold and to follow this daystar of dien. The Wisemen and Health, Pref. vii).

This is the opening paragraph of the Preface to the Christian Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," written by the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy.

Jesus, the human herald of Christ, treferred to, spoke of himself as the Way, and Mrs. Eddy calls him the Way-shower. She refers frequently to his guiding finger posts that point the path to heaven, to the hills that must be climbed, and to the obstacles which need to be overcome, thus indicating what the true way is that leads to present and final salvation.

All who have had enough of the way which leads surely to spiritual emancipation and which is paved with stepping-stone as: "A stone of fenduring a foot-rest, as for crossing a stream, etc.; hence, that by which one advances or rises."

THE PATHWAY

The portal to this pathway is the heavenly gate of understanding and the heavenly deed fine-standing and fine first propers and benefits regarding a federal proval and commendation, to extol, to land, the way which lea

"Shepherd, show me how to go
O'er the hillside steep,
How to gather, how to sow.—
How to feed Thy sheep;
I will listen for Thy voice,

Lest my footsteps stray;
I will follow and rejoice
All the rugged way."

Let us now proceed along this path, treading in thought as best we may in the brief space of a lecture, some of its spiritual stepping-stones, learning how to climb where necessary, how to avoid the stumbling blocks, pit-how to avoid the stumbling blocks, pit-falls, and byways, and how to keep faithfully to this highway of hope, guided by spiritual Truth which alone leads to the understanding of God. These stepping-stones are not the only ones that mark the upward path out of the waste places of material sense, nor are they necessarily found in the order here given, but they serve to show the guidance provided by di-vine Truth and Love in the passage of mankind out of mortality into the promised land of immortality and peace.

peace. PERCEPTION

As we begin to walk along this pathway, it will be a great help if we feel that Christian Science is right,

GENUINENESS-A GUIDEPOST GENUINENESS—A GUIDEPOST

An important guidepost at the outset is that which tells us whether we are seeking the aid of genuine Christian Science or some one of its many counterfeits or imitations; for he who wants true Christian Science must be careful not to accept what is offered until quite sure that it is the Science presented by Mrs. Eddy in her writings and practised by her loyal followers.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP. In these days of campaign speeches by radio and otherwise, Clubwomen of Newton have their attention called to the significant—and timely—message of our adviser in the Department of Legislation, Mrs. Arthur D. Potter—former State president. However eloquent the oratory of candidates, however beclouded the real issue with accusations as to live issues, as to "whisperings," and as to "intolerance," the entire controversy is in reality upon one vital matter for this country and its people. Mrs. Potter makes that clear and conclusive in her quotation of Mrs. John D. Sherman's statement before the Biennial while yet she was General Federation president:

"For an organization like ours, committed to activities in the interest of home, community and nation, a logical, or rather inevitable feature of our work is effort for law enforcement. The last few years the attacks upon the Eighteenth Amendment have been so concerted, so organized and directed that they constitute a challenge to us, as they should to all lawabiding organizations. Therefore, instead of taking our belief in law enforcement for granted as we take our integrity, our virtue, our honor and our honesty, it has been necessary for us to formulate a program for the support of law enforcement.

"I would have the Federation take an active part in a general campaign to persuade the 62,000,000 voters of the United States to fulfill their civic duty by taking part in the November elections according to plans put forth by the American Citizenship Department."

Mrs. Potter carried that statement forward by saving:

ment."
Mrs. Potter carried that statement forward by saying:
"The vital matter concerning us at the present time is, who shall be our law-makers. It is our plain duty to see that the best men and women of both parties are nominated and elected, for they will be the law-makers of the land."

with the a food sale, held by the Auburndale Woman's Club Chorus, to help meet its expenses for the coming year. The Chorus, under the leadership of Mr. Gerald Frazes, director, and Mrs. William Jarvis, chairman, is planning to present a complete operetta, and it is hoped that the Club members will support the Chorus in this unusual and difficult piece of work, by patronizing its food sale generously.

Newton Community Club

The program planned for the opening meeting of the Newton Community Club is most attractive and alluring. Miss Helen Howe will give original monologues—a form of entertainment that holds great appeal for almost all Club women, and is sure to start off a new year with just the right amount of "lightness," and lack of formality. Mrs. Henry Nealley will report briefly on the State Federation meeting held at Swampscott last May, and there will be an Exhibition of the splendid work done by Club members in the Italian Needlework and Furniture Painting Classes. An exhibit of this kind always is of interest and inspiration. A reception, social hour and refreshments round out the afternoon in delightful manner. The Club meets at 2:30 o'clock in Underwood School Hall, with the president, Mrs. Harry W. Fitts, presiding, on Thursday, October 11th.

The Public Health Committee, a group with ideas and enthusiasm, are announcing their many appealing activities planned. These are beginning at once in order that Club members may make the most of these glorious fall days. Any member of the Club

PRAYER

This journey "unto heaven" requires unceasing communion with God through prayer, as we have just learned from Paul's Epistle to the Ephesians, and this prayer is answered in each advancing step, and in constant directional leading and spiritual inspiration.

We have seen from the beginning of our efforts the vital importance of an acknowledgement of a higher power, a looking upward, a dependence upon something beyond the material, for a constant of the property of the presence, power, and forever willingness of infinite Love to meet all honest needs, is prayer. The desire for spiritual light and strength, for wisdom and understanding that enables us to affirm confidently what is unreal, and thereby to see our true relation to God through Christ, is prayer.

Our beautiful hymn (Hymnal, No.

Our beautiful hymn (Hymnal, No. 88) tells us that,—

"Prayer is the heart's sincere desire, Uttered or unexpressed; The motion of a hidden fire That trembles in the breast.

The Majesty on high.

"Prayer is the Christian's vital breath, The Christian's native air: His watchword overcometh death— He enters heaven with prayer."

FIND WATER LEAK

Part of the large amount of water which has been leaking lately was escaping from the 20 inch main on Homer street and going into Laundry Brook nearby. The leak at this place was discovered last Thursday. It is thought that this leak was not responsible for all of the wastage. The cleaning burr of the National Pipe Cleaning Company which became stuck a couple of weeks ago in the Park street main near Vernon street, Newton, was removed on Wednesday. The water mains in Hall street, Newton, and on Washington street between Hall and Jewett streets, were cleaned by the scraper on Wednesday.

Boston, Mass.

Dear Sirs:

I am enclosing the receipt for $2,000 paid to this organization under the will of Mrs. Susan H. Miller.

We wish to acknowledge this legacy with particular thanks. We are a very young association, and this is the first gift of any size that has ever come to us, and it is also given at a time when both the money and the faith in the organization, which such a bequest implies, are the greatest possible assistance and encouragement to us. It is very kind of you also to mention the fact that this is in part payment of the legacy. I can assure you that the directors will use the entire amount in some way which shall be of permanent value to the girls and women of Newton.

Very truly yours.

What Is The Matter With Parents?

The present generation of parents were TAKEN to Sunday School. NOW children are SENT.

The Sunday School needs the parents.

If the children were to grow up without any concept of God or of His consolations, how would they be equipped to face temptation? How would they face bereavement?

No one wants a Godless generation.

No one wants a generation growing up without some anchors.

No one wants this youth problem forever raised.

But is it a youth problem?

Is it not rather a parent problem?

Why not face the issue fairly?

If our fathers and their fathers could give, and give gladly of their time and understanding, can't this generation do the same?

POLICE NEWS

Francis Parker, 64, of 40 Butts treet, Upper Falls, was fined $25 in the Newton court on Sept. 28 for committing assault and battery on an year old girl named O'Rourke. The times to move her car but she refused to do so.

Joseph McCammon of 1443 Beacon street, Brookline was one of the spectators at the golf match on September 12 at the Woodland Golf Club when Hagen, Sarazen, Farrell and Jones did their stuff. It cost Joseph $2 to see the big match that day; it cost McCammon $10 more in the Newton court on Friday. He was charged with having blocked a street car. According to the testimony of Motorcycle Officer O'Donnell McCammon's automobile was parked on the street car tracks with its ignition and all its doors locked. A Framingham car with 30 passengers was delayed 12 minutes while O'Donnell and six assistants, including the car crew, laboriously lifted McCammon's automobile, one corner at a time, off the tracks. Despite Joseph's contention that he had parked the car off the tracks, and that someone else must have moved it there, Judge Bacon found him guilty and fined him $10.

Speeders fined in the Newton court last Friday were—Robert Myers, Jamaica Plain, $10; Nevin Billiet, Springfield, $10; Joseph Hennessy, 46 Vista avenue, Auburndale, $10; Donald Crisp, Highland avenue, Needham, $5; Joseph Butler, Natick, $25. Butler appealed. Harry Simon of Roxbury was fined $5 for parking his car on the wrong side of Commonwealth avenue.

Newtonville, was arrested by Sers. Moan and Patrolman King last Friday night for the Haverhill police who wanted him on the charge of larceny from a restaurant there where he was employed.

In court on Saturday William Brosnahan of 282 Watertown street, Nonantum, paid a $100 fine for driving while under the influence of liquor, and a $50 fine for driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. He had appealed from these fines at his trial on September 24 but withdraw the appeals on Saturday. Sunday evening a complaint was made to police headquarters that some young men were observing the Sabbath by engaging in a noisy crapagme in a doorway on Adams street, Nonantum, officers Goddard, Walen and J. captains, for which she might find use on her journey.

There are a number of new captains this fall, who will unite with the old to make Scoutting in Newton this year the finest ever in all the city's twelve years of Scouting. These captains are: Miss Ruth Fennessey, who will take Troop 1 in place of Miss Lovejoy's; Miss Gorge Himman, who will take Troop 22, also Miss Lovejoy's; Miss Elizabeth Noyes, who will take Captain Skipwith's Troop, 13; Mrs. Widger replacing Mrs. Ross with Troop 27; Mrs. J. Arthur Moir, who will have Brownie Pack 1, in place of Mrs. VerPlanck; Miss Eleanor Hartel has taken Miss Lovell's Troop, 5, while Miss Lovel has become captain of Troop 15, which Miss Leighton had last year. Miss Anne Kenefick, a lieutenant in Troop 16 last year, will this year be its captain; Miss Mildred Ryder replaces Miss Dorothy Colby, who is teaching in Ann Arbor, Michigan this winter; and Mrs. Marjorie Malaney will take Troop 18 in place of Miss Eleanor Hall.

Practically all the troops have started or will start this week and aware of this fact until Chariton awarened him. The boy had arisen,

OPEN NEW AGENCY

Thursday afternoon of last week Mrs. Hugh McDonnell of Highland terrace, Newtonville, reported to the police that a diamond ring had been stolen from her home. Suspicion pointed to Lucy Chaisson, 16, of Charles street, Waltham, who had been employed by Mrs. McDonald. Inspector Shaughnessy located the girl at her room in the Waltham address and she admitted the theft. She led the inspector and Serg. Donahue of the Waltham police to the home of a girl friend on Charles street, Waltham, where 60 persons had assembled to surprise this girl with a shower in anticipation of her wedding which was to take place on the following Sunday. The choicest "drop" in the shower was the $90 diamond ring presented by Lucy. The bride-to-be and the prospective groom were more than surprised when the two police officers arrived at the party and seized the stolen ring. Lucy was placed on probation for six months when she was tried in the Newton 2study night as Miss Leora Bacon of 254 Waltham street, West Newton, was walking near her home a coupe containing two men drove up and one of the "men" jumped out, snatched the Newton court on Sept. 2s for committing assault and battery on an syear old girl named O'Rourke. The girl's mother testified that Parker had hurled a fruit picker at the child when she asked him for a pear, cutting her on the face. Parker denied this charge and claimed that the picker had fallen from his graps, landing on an unabrella the girl was carrying. He stated he had given the girl one pear and she had come back for another one. He appealed.

Helen M. Winslow of 89 Warren street, Newton Centre, was fined $\frac{2}{5}$ in the Newton court last Friday for refusing to move her automobile when ordered to do so by a police officer. Patrolman Daniel McLaughlin testified that the Winslow woman's automobile was so parked in Newton Centre square that another woman autoists could not move her car so that she might proceed to the Newton Hospital where she had an appointment. McLaughlin asked the defendant three times to move her car but she might proceed to the Newton of 1443 Beacon Jreeh, Brookline was one of the specified to do so.

REAL ESTATE MEN HAVE POETIC

That there is plenty of romance in real estate buying and that the real estate man himself possesses as a poetic a soul as the artist, the musician or the poet is evidenced in the manner in which William R. Ferry, real estate broker of Newton, appeals to his prospects. His latest follows:

Nothing like a little home
When back from work at night
You feel contended with the tho
Your plans and aims are right.

A contented mind a continual feast
The wise men so declare
So why not strive to buy this home
Decide to do and dare.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

SOMERVILLE IS ONE OF THE BEST

ONE OF THE BEST

The coming game on October 27th between Newton high and Somerville at Claffin field begins to look as though it would be one of the classics of the schoolboy football season. Somerville, with a veteran eleven and considerable reserve strength, seems to be one of the outstanding teams in the state if its showing against Chelsea and Salem is any criterion. Newton if it continues to display the promise it did in the Belmont game is also headed for a place near the top of the heap.

Somerville walloped Chelsea 25 to 0 two weeks ago but Lynn English gained a 26 to 0 victory over the same team last Saturday. Salem was defeated by two touchdowns by Dickerman's outfit last Saturday while the week previous Cambridge Latin succumbed to the Broderick eleven by the same margin. Tomorrow's game between Newton and Cambridge will give a more direct comparison between Newton and Somerville if the scores of games can be taken as a basis.

headliners of the day. Waltham last week and showed considerable potential strength in an 18 to 0 victory.

Medford failed to defeat Brockton but held the Shoe City lads to a 6 to 6 tie. Brockton put up a gallant fight although Medford was considered the favorite. Medford, under its new coach "Hubba" Collins, former Beverly mentor, has a good team.

Everett had little trouble defeating Stevens high of New Hampshire by four touchdowns and looked more like a machine than it did the week before against St. Peter's High of Worcester in a scoreless tie. Nashua, conqueriers of Beverly two weeks ago, defeated St. Peter's last Saturday 13 to 0 which would make it appear that Beverly and Everett were about on a par. Everett, however, doubtless has a stronger team than Beverly, which was held to a scoreless tie by Swampscott last Saturday.

Rindge Tech was defeated by Lawrence, 8 to 6. The Murphy coached eleven is one of the best to represent the Cambridge school and will give the other Suburban league teams plenty of trouble.

Brookline high, which is getting a late start this year, opens its season to me to the Brookline field. Evidently the

Wealthy Towners will be up against some stiff opposition as Boston Col-lege high showed a lot in defeating Cambridge Latin 6 to 0 last week Fri-

Cambridge Latin 6 to 0 last week Friday,
Although the season is but a few weeks old it looks as though Newton's hardest games will be with Somerville, Medford and Waltham with Everett, Rindge and Brookline giving plenty of trouble. In past years Newton has had at least one easy November game, that with Rindge. This year there will be no letup as the November games include Medford, Rindge and Waltham on successive Saturdays and Brookline ten days after Waltham on Turkey day.

Harold Andres At Centre

Harold Andres, former Newton high captain and star centre, started the game for Dartmouth against Norwick last Saturday. The Green swampe the smaller Vermont team under a 3 the smaller Vermont team under a 39 to 6 score. With a good backfield Coach Hawley's eleven should have another excellent season as the line shows promise of development into a strong unit. Henry Johnson, Waban tennis player and also a former Newton high fullback, also got into the game in Capt. Dick Black's position. Although Dartmouth did no punting in the game against Norwich the Green has several good kickers. In the practice before the game Johnson was getting off the longest spirals of any punter on the squad. Eleven members were selected to eat at the training table. Andres was the only centre chosen but it is expected that five or six more players will soon be named.

Gilligan Kept On Freshman Squad freshman cut the squad last Saturday. Frenchy Gilligan, brother of Tom, potential Harvard star, and Joe, Newton high haitback, and also a former Newton high and Exeter player, was among the backfield men retained. Frank Stubbs, Jr., a lineman at Newton was also kept in the backfield group. In the line Newton has a product in Joe Forristall who performed at tackle a few years ago and the last two years as end on the Exeter eleven. Several of the other candidates played on the teams that opposed those when Gilligan and Forristall played at Newton. Roger Gleason, quarterback, Eugene Record, halfback, Teddy Cole, end and Henry Myerson, lineman, all of Brookline and Red Finlayson of Cambridge Latin are a few.

Thereupon the owner of the new car indulges in a monologue that consumes a good quarter of an hour.

That's quite all right, but my point is this—when somebody asks, "What kind of a car are you driving?" that person has a new car and wants to talk about his own and not yours. He seems solicitous about your car, but in reality he is opening up the way for his pet subject of discourse. I warn those who may employ this subterfuge that they are being watched.

It was my good fortune to be the guest of a friend who possesses a fine car and a generous heart and who made me his traveling companion through the White Mountains, Vermont and the province of Quebec. Such impressions as I gathered are shared by so many readers of this

Apropos of my articles on auto owners, their troubles and behavior. I have made still another discovery which I submit as one of the joys of motoring. You meet a friend in the hotel lobby where both of you happen to have put up for the night while on a tour. After effusive greetings the conversation runs something like this:

"Well, where you bound?"

"He added for home, we made 247 miles yesterday. Came through from Quebec."

"Is that so, we made 186 miles and would have made more if we hadn't had a blow-out and a puncture both."

"What kind of a car are you driving?"

"O, Jammerack six, same as lastyar. Holding up fine, though. What kind have you?"

"Mine, just bought a brand new Masterbile. Wonderful car, never saw anything like it."

"Really, isn't that fine."

not in operation in this State. I didn't enlighten them on any of the things I knew regarding some Massachusetts politicians. I suspected their opinion was none too high as it was.

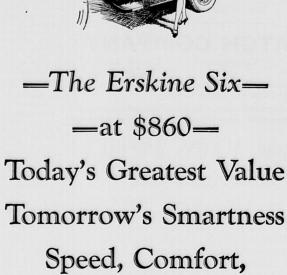

Now that the State conventions of the Democratic and Republican parties have been held and adjourned the voters have nothing else to do, providing they are registered, but sit back and watch, or turn on the radio and listen. There is no objection to wading through the political news in the daily press, but that is not an obligation and whoever does so must hold himself and no one else responsible for whatever mental suffering he is forced to endure.

This is the period of the campaign when both sides are most uncertain of results. So-called strategists have laid aside whatever strategy they ever possessed and are completely panicstricken, although trying to conceal it. Each time one National headquarters puts out a statement it is eagerly disowned at the other. Expert publicity experts are sent for and asked their opinion of the voters' probable reaction and then called upon to advise how it should be answered. I have been permitted the privilege of observing the consternation that prevails in these places at this period in a National campaign and I can assure you that the strain is very great for all concerned. It, however, represents the American way of doing things and who wouldn't be an American?

who wouldn't be an American?

We still have four holidays left. Of these, Christmas and Thanksgiving are bound to call for a rearrangement of whatever plans we have, for they are not to be missed. Now the next holiday, Columbus Day, October 12, comes on Friday. Our new holiday, November 11, falls on a Sunday which means it will be celebrated on the next day. Here there are two holidays falling at the end of the week—which end does not matter. Now I leave it to any inveterate weekenders what this suggests. Here are practically two more short vacations within the next thirty-seven days. The weather ought to be propititious for such as enjoy any outdoor sports. Personally, I trust that the new holiday at least will receive some more attention than that. It is to be the 10th anniversary of the signing of the armistice and is an occasion of tremendous significance. I am confident that our young veterans are going to make the observance a fitting one and can easily imagine how dear to their hearts the exercises on that day will be. It is, to my mind, the duty, therefore, of all the rest of us to make every effort to assist them—at least by our presence. I should deplore the planning of any celebration not supervised or at least approved by the veterans. It will be the one opportunity to acknowledge a debt to these men and women of the World War that can never be paid in full.

I think there's nothing that furnishes more material for excitement of a mild nature than the convention photograph. By that I mean the picture that was taken when all the members of that National organization you belong to gathered for their annual meeting. You remember how a notice was sent out that a photograph would be taken at certain time in front of the convention headquarters. You must recall how much standing around there was while the photographer decided who should stand in the front center and who were tall enough to form a background. I never could understand how they do it, but I leave it to convention photographers I leave it to convention photographers to weary their customers in a remarkably short space of time. Then comes a proof brought to your hotel and with an explanation that the work had to be rushed for the newspapers but the picture that you will receive through the mail when you get home will be

Mr. Horace W. Orr Presents Memorial To His Wife To Norumbega District Council

The skies were blue; the sun bright and warm; the woods in the first flush of the wonderful hues of autumn on Sunday afternoon, October 1th, when the Dedication of the Nobscot Reservation of the Newton Boy Scouts was dedicated. The ceremonies were held in a natural amphitheatre, on the Council area which will soon come to be known among the Scouts and officers as "Chippanooyonk," which is real Indian-ese for "where the Tribes assemble," with the audience and Scouts seated on the leafy bank, in the chequered shade made by the sunlight trickling through the leaves of the many trees around.

Behind the flag pole were seated

Behind the flag pole were seated the Eagle Scout Circle, the Executive Board, Officers and special guests and speakers and the Drum and Bugle Corps under Junior Drum Major, Alfred K. Brown, Jr., a Scout of Troop 10. Waban.

Staff Files in to Music

Staff Files in to Music

The staff, under President Halliday was formed in single file, as appropriate to such an occasion in the woods, walked into the Council ring, and were saluted by four ruffles from the Drum and Bugle Corps, which then played one or two pieces. Immediately as they were in place, the Scouts of Norumbega Council, about 400 strong, with their Troop Leaders, filed silently into position. It was most impressive, for there was scarcely a sound from the Scouts and the audience.

When all were in place, the group was led in singing the first verse of America by Mr. Ralph Whitman, Executive of Algonquin Council of Boy Scouts, in whose territory the Reservation lies.

with their Troop Leaders, filed silently into position. It was most impressive, for there was scarcely a sound from the Scouts and the audience. When all were in place, the group was led in singing the first verse of America by Mr. Ralph Whitman, Executive of Algonquin Council of Boy Scouts, in whose territory the Reservation lies.

Commissioner Woodbridge took charge of the Color ceremony and the American and Council Colors were raised smartly to the peak and broken to the light afternoon breeze by Chief Eagle Evan Collins of the Eagle Circle, with two Eagle Scout Emmons Brown's bugle.

Then President Halliday stepped forward and gave a warm welcome to the guests and Scouts, with their leaders, assembled. He told briefly of the great scope of Scouting, with its international features and then more particularly of the work of Norumbega Council during the past year, has done excellent work.

Indians Bring Greetings
As the last notes of the music died away the Scout executive, L. A. Bruce, Indians who used to roam and hunt and camp all over the country about, even upon the present Reservation of the Scouts. As he said, "The Spirit of the Nijmucs brings us greeting," down the hill slowly came Chief Clsco, Princess Sarah Cisco, her aunt through the circle, the eye of every person was on them and the thrill that went through the crowd was almost a physical wave. This part of the program had been kept a secret, so but few knew of it. Princess Cisco stepped to ward the south and, raising her hands, said, "First, we greet the Great Spirit," and then turned towards the points of the compass and greeted the gods reging in each. She brought greeting in each. She brough

Then Mr. James Luby, Town Counsel of Framingham, brought greetings from his town and told the Scouts some of the Indian history and one of the Old Indian land marks near the Reservation.

Mr. Ralph Whitman brought cordial greetings from the Algonquin Council.

Mayor Edwin O. Childs was then presented to the group and he gave a very inspiring address on true success and complimented Mr. Orr most highly on the splendid thing he was doing in making such a Reservation possible for the boys of Newton and expressed the wish that all boys might have a like chance.

He was followed by a brief program from the Drum and Bugle Corps, which, as it has since its consolidation last year, has done excellent work.

Mather Class Opened With Good Attendance

Modern Views of Ancient Problems To Be Discussed During October

Last Sunday, at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House, the Mather Class held the first meeting of the season.

The leader, Prof. Kirtley F. Mather, of Harvard University, outlined the plan of the year's activities.

Sunday morning, at 9:50, the Class will meet at the Woman's Club House. Everybody, of college age or over, is welcome.

will meet at the Woman's Club House. Everybody, of college age or over, is welcome.

Owing to the fact that some, who would like to come, are prevented by Sunday morning engagements, like teaching in some Sunday School, it is planned to hold one meeting a month on Sunday evening, a Round Table, the Sunday after the first Wednesday, but none in October.

There will be a social once a month, the third Wednesday evening, each month.

A strong inducement to prompt attendance will be the special music by talented artists who will, it is planned, be present twice a month, and oftener if possible. This music will be the first thing on the program. A monthly bulletin, in mimeograph, will be published. This will furnish all possible information about everything connected with the class.

The general subject for discussion during October will be "Modern Views of Ancient Problems,"

Last Sunday's special topic was "The Old Testament God of Fear."

These age-old problems have been in the experience of the race for generations, but come to us anew. However, when we consider them, we have to take the historical method and ascertain how the people of old have attempted to solve them, in order to be in a position ourselves to profit by their experience when we attempt to solve the same problems.

What is the relationship of God to man? What sort of a God is it in whom people can put confidence? Is there a God?

The principal idea was that man cringed before God and was afraid of His wrath.

In Noah's time the idea was that man had become so wicked that God, having found His experiment a failure, determined to blot man off the earth.

Mrs. Elizabeth Tilton, noted worker for law enforcement, considered Hoover a world hero, big enough to have been supported by one coalition party. She described meeting Mr. and Mrs. Hoover twenty-two years ago in London, and her impression at that time of the outstanding qualities that distinguish the candidate today, the desire to serve, the brains to know how, and a grim persistency. Mrs. Tilton stressed the organized methods which must be employed by campaign works, and answered convincingly many questions which have been raised in he campaign.

The Newton Hoover Headquarters at 241 Washington street, Newton Corner, was filled to capacity at its formal opening last Wednesday morning. Promptly at 11 o'clock Mrs. Lorenz F. Muther, chairman of the Newton Women's Committee for Hoover, gave a brief address of welcome and introduced Sara Cone Bryant Borst, whose campaign sons, "Hoover, We're for You," led by the sister of the author, was sung with enthusiasm by all present.

Mrs. Emma Fall Schofield, Assistant Attorney General of the Commonwealth, told in vital and dramatic fashion the story of Hoover's life, quoting with emphasis Will Irwin's statement that Hoover is not just a candidate, but an opportunity. She said that Hoover has made a success of every job he has undertaken, has brought great prosperity to the country, and, above all, stands for a prosperity that is righteous.

Mrs. James J. NEWTON TOPS CANTABS 14 TO 0

Newton high opened its 1928 Suburban league season last Saturday on Russell Field. Cambridge, with a 14 to 0 victory over the Cambridge Latin eleven. Forward passes played a prominent part in the victory. The first touchdown came in the second period with the orange and black making a 70-yard drive, culminating with a long pass from Duane to Payne for the final 35 yards. Payne was on the goal line when he took the oval out of the air. Harlow came breaking through the line to block Gilligan's try at goal before the ball was passed from centre and Newton was awarded the point. The second score came midway of the fourth period. Harrington had blocked a Cambridge kick on the 25-yard line. Two first downs in Newton high opened its 1928 Subur 25-yard line. Two first downs in plays brought the ball to the ee yard line from where Perry at over. One of the Cantabs ends offside when Gilligan attempted a goal for the point and again the of-ficials awarded the point to Newton. Fumbles by both teams prevented other scoring.

First Quarter

First Quarter

Harrington kicked off for Newton and Harlow of Cambridge ran it back to his 44-yd, line. Cambridge made one first down and then kicked to Newton's 10 yard stripe. Duane made nine yards off tackle and Pescosolido made it first down on the next play. Gilligan and Perry made another first down, the latter slipping through for 14 yards. Duane and Gilligan made five yards between them and then Gilligan tossed a pass to Payne for 35 yards to the Cambridge 30-yard line. Pescosolido fumbled and Cambridge recovered to save a possible score as Newton was going good. Two plays gained little and Harlow kicked to Perry on his 33-yard line. A pass from Gilligan to Scheinfaln was incompleted and Gilligan kicked to the Cambridge 35-yard line. Harrington was through on Hynes and tossed him for a four yard loss. MacFadden gained back three and Harlow kicked to Perry on his 35-yard stripe. A pass from Duane to Gilligan was incomplete. Pescosolido made three yards and on the next play Perry fumbled and Captain Katz of Cambridge recovered. Hynes and McFadgen made four yards on two plays as the quarter ended with the ball on Newton's 40-yard line in Cambridge's possession.

Second Quarter

with the ball on Newton's 40-yard line in Cambridge's possession.

Second Quarter

A pass from Harlow to McFadgen was incomplete and Harlow kicked outside at the Newton 10-yard mark. Another Newton fumble, recovered by Cambridge placed them in a good position to score. The Newton line was 5 yard penalty. Harlow was stopped on the line of scrimmage. On the eaxt play and back on the 30-yard line to save Newton. Duane made 4 yards and then one yard. A pass from Giligan to Payne was intercepted by Noan, Cantab right end, at midfield. One blay gained but a foot and a pass was scompleted. Harlow dropped back to ant and Scheinfain got in to block ind recover the ball on the Cambridge 40-yard stripe. A Gilligan to Relly who had replaced Pescosolido, cained two more. A Gilligan to Relly was went wrong and Cambridge had he ball on downs on their own 32 yard me. Two plays and Harlow kicked o Perry on his own 30-yard striperom which he ran it back five yards. Duane to Scheinfain pass was good or 15 yards. Reilly gained a yard, Lanne tossed to Gilligan for another ard. A pass from Duane to Payne the hall on the Cambridge 25 and line.

EVERETT GAME WIIL BE CLOSE

Despite the fact that Everett looked Despite the fact that Everett looked impressive in its 58 to 0 route of Rindge Tech last Saturday and despite the fact that Newton has not gained a victory over Everett for several years and despite the fact that Newton did not look as strong against Cambridge in the early part of the game as it might have today's game with Everett on the Everett field should be a close game with the victor being determined largely by the breaks. In recent years the Gilden outlit has forced the breaks to come their way whether or not the orange their way whether or not the orange and black can turn the tables this year is another question. Four years ago Dick Ahlin's punting was too much for Newton. Three years ago the same player intercepted a Newton pass right on his goalline as Newton was about to score, and ran the length of the field for the only score of the game. Two years ago Johnny Proctor's kick, which was hurried by the Everett forwards, went outside after traveling but ten or twelve yards and placed Everett in a position to score a field goal. The only score of the game. Last year two disastrous Newton fumbles recovered by the alert Everett lineman, Pagluccia and Digby, were turned into touchdowns. This in short is the story of Newton's defeat the past few years.

In the Belmont game Newton showed promise of considerable strength both in the line and backfield. Against Cambridge the line was strong and fast but the backfield did entirely too much fumbling. It was only fortune that prevented Cambridge from scoring early in the game which might have made the outcome decidedly different. A quick start on an opponent is a great advantage. Take the Everett-Kindige contest last their way whether or not the orange and black can turn the tables this year an opponent is a great advantage. Take the Everett-Rindge contest last week for example. On the opening kickoff Rindge fumbled and Pagluccia, who this year is playing fullback for Everett, turned the fumble into a touchdown with the game less than a minute old. The result was that Rindge was at once a beaten team. They never had a chance after that as the Gildea eleven swept them off their feet.

Doubtless Everett has a good team. Any team that can roll up 58 points in forty minutes of football must have something to go on. But the weakness of Rindge must be considered. In its game the week previous seven of the first string men on the Rindge squad were injured. Three of them so that they may not play again this season. The other four were not in perfect condition to play against Everett.

Newton is anxious to end the Everett string of victories for more reasons than onc. Perhaps this is the year. With a lighter team but faster than usual Newton has a good chance of coming through. Whether they do or not the game will be decidedly interesting and both teams will know they have been in a real game. It is the first real test of the season for both teams. Newton having played Belmont and Cambridge Latin met teams which it was expected to defeat. Everett, starting a week earlier than the orange and black was held to a scoreless tie by St. Peter's school of Worces, r. unexpectedly. In its second game it defeated Stevens High of Claremont, N. H., 25 to 0. Last Saturday's 58 to 9 score is the largest of any Greater Boston school game to date but in the three games the Everett total does not compare with that run up by last year's outfit with its remarkable start.

Today's game is a tartar for both and much is at stake. The outcome will probably have much to do with the final resting place of the 1928 Suburban league title. At present it looks as though Somerville, Everett and Newton had the best chance of coming through. Both Newton and Everett have one game under their belts while Somerville and Brookline have yet to

Gilligan Shines In Harvard Win
Without much shadow of doubt Tommy Gilligan was the leading luminary in the Harvard-Springfield game from the spectators standpoint. Of the four forward passes the Crimson attempted Gilligan and Batchelder was the successful combination on the two that were completed. Batchelder tossed them and Gilligan caught them. Both passes were short, the first good for a 12-yard advance and the second for 32-yards with Gilligan traveling 25yards of the distance through the Springfield team. Gilligan ment in with the rest of the Team B backfield midway of the second quarter and the Crimson soon got the ball down to the three-yard line. An offside penalty put them back five yards.
Gilligan asked how much time was left and learning that there was but seven seconds dropped back and kicked a pretty field goal. Although the distance was not great the boot was straight as an arrow and with plenty of lift. Gilligan got in one other successful goal, following Batchelder's touchdown. In the third quarter Tommy reeled off as pretty a broken field run as one would care to see. In returning a Springfield punt for about 25 yards. The former Newton high star ran about twice this distance in making the run as he was forced one side of the field to the other. Late in the third quarter Springfield worked the ball down to the Crimson three-yard line, the last 20-yards through the first team, with the exception of Gilligan who was at quarter. One play was stopped and on the next play the Harvard centre trio came through and tackled the runner so hard that he fumbled and Gilligan saved a score by recovering the ball.

Owing to conflicting dates only about fifty members of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club met for the "Open House," with the president Mrs. Robert McLaughlin at her home, 69 Waldorf road, on Monday evening, October 1st. The Mystic Troubadour Players of Medford captivated their hearers by their musical program on the xylophone, drum and other instruments. Mrs. F. D. Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The program arranged for Guest
Night of the Newton Upper Falls
Woman's Club is one of special appeal to the men who will have the opportunity of being the guests. "Timely Topics" is the heading under which two outstanding figures in political and civic life will be enabled to bring their message to their audience. Hon.
John C. Hull, who was Speaker of the House of Representatives in 1927-1928, and Newton's Mayor, Hon. Edwin O.
Childs, to whom Newton Clubwomen are always glad to listen, are the speakers. After the program refreshments will be served. The meeting will be held on Monday evening, October 15th, at the Kindergarten

Mrs. Bernard Meehan as chairman of the evening.

Club

Two attractive events are planned for this week for the enjoyment of members of the West Newton Women's Educational Club. Luncheon for those who have joined the American Home Department group will be served at the home of Mrs. Arthur M. Teulon, 9 Elmwood Park, Newtonville, on Monday, October 15th, at 1 p. m. A talk on "Bulbs" will be given by Mr. W. H. Riggs, which is sure to arouse interest in following his sage advice that much pleasure may be had next spring.

On Thursday, October 18th, there will be a luncheon and cards at the Food Craft Shop, 234 Boylston street, Boston, under the auspices of this same energetic committee, which promises a splendid opportunity for sociability.

same energetic committee, which spromises a splendid opportunity for sociability.

Rehearsals are under way for the Pageant which is being sponsored by the West Newton Women's Educational Club to be given at the Newton High School Auditorium on Wednesday, October 24th, afternoon and evening. The choir of thirty voices are rehearsing under the direction of Mrs. Clinton W. Kyle, of Newtonville, with Miss Dorothy Curtis at the piano. This choir is the Glee Club of the Newtonville Women's Club, augmented by members of other Newton Clubs. The Bostonia Women's Orchestra, with Belle Yeaton Mahn, as conductor, needs no introduction to Newton audiences. As these musicians go out on tour with Leginska's Orchestra the 26th of October the committee is very fortunate in having secured them for the Pageant. Several of Newton's singers will also appear on the program. This Pageant is the reproduction in Tableau form of the paintings by Edwin A. Abbey as shown in the Boston Public Library, and all the impressiveness, beauty of color and spiritual significance of these paintings are woven into a performance that is an artistic triumph. For Mrs. Lyon ,through whose talent these pictures have become such a wonderful living reality, there can be nothing but the highest praise. In her complete study, she has overlooked nothing in the way of costumes, or other accessories necessary for the successful production of the story and that would contribute in the least degree to the almost perfect conception of the subject and satisfaction to the eye, the ear and to the heart. Clubwoon should remember the date, October 24th. Don't miss it, is a wise warning and is wiser advice.

Yri. Howard B. Lester gave a very fine paper on "The Yukon River in Alaska." She told about the people and their customs, the beauty of the country, and the wonders of the gold regions; also of the lovely mild weather southern Alaska has during a part of the year.

Mrs. Lester added to the charm of her presentation by reading some of Service's poems which he wrote while at his home in Alaska where he so loved to be.

There will be three papers on the "Life and Administration of George Washington" as the program for the meeting of the Auburndale Review Club on Tuesday morning, October 16th. A backward glance at the character and political ideals of this first great American leader should be an inspiration in these days just before the choice of voters on November 6th, and should help to clear the atmosphere of becloudment from various sources that can hardly claim to the high sentiment of the father of his country. Mrs. J. Franklin Ryder, Mrs. N. L. Grant, and Mrs. George E. Martin are the Club members who have the wonderful opportunity of presenting this man and his life to their fellow members. Mrs. Susan F. SPORT NOTES

Clark Stars For Dartmouth
Dartmouth had little trouble defeating Hobart College 44 to 0 at Hanover last Saturday. In addition to the fact that Harold Andres seems to have clinched the first string centre berth the most interesting thing about the game from a local viewpoint is the admirable backfield play of Leonard Clark, of Newton Highlands and Henry L. Johnson, Jr., of Waban, both former Newton high mainstays. Clark figured in two of the Green's touchdowns, scoring one on a five-yard gain and tossing a pass to Wolcott who raced 25-yards for the final score of the game. Clark missed the point after the touchdown.

Bowdoin Loses Clark Stars For Dartmouth

Bowdoin Loses

Bowdoin Loses
Bowdoin College, captained by Winslow Howland of Auburndale, centre, and with Robert Adams at right end and Stuart Stone of West Newton at fullback, all former Newton players, was nosed out by Amherst College last Saturday at Amherst by the score of 7 to 3. Bowdoin scored its field goal in the third quarter only to see Amherst cross its goal line late in the final period.

Gilligan Taken Out

Gilligan Taken Out

Fear of injury following his hard running and dodging causing exhaustion prompted the Harvard coaches to pull him out and give him a well-earned rest before they had originally intended to relieve him. All of the Boston sports writers gave Tommy the credit for his fine playing. One went on to say that Tommy's chief defect was his inclination to take too much on his own shoulders. Another critic stated that Tommy had a lot to learn, which naturally is true since he is only a sophomore and college football is on a higher level than in school, preparatory and college freshman circles. But with much natural ability and a ready absorber of football knowledge he should come along fast under Horween.

Hunnefield Playing Well

Hunnefield Playing Well
Bill Hunnefield has been playing at shortstop for the Chicago White Sox in the intercity series with the Chicago Cubs of the National league. The former Saxony star has been playing a fine game for the American leaguers and figured prominently in enabling the White Sox to tie the series up after the Cubs had a 3 game to 1 lead.
Tuesday the Cubs swamped the Sox
under a 13 to 2 score to win the city championship.

Hemeon At End

Mel Hemeon, former Newton high end, is playing his second season at end for the Cushing Academy eleven which won over the Mass. Aggles Jun-ior Varsity eleven last Saturday at Ashburnham, 19 to 0.

POLICE NEWS

A petition is being circulated by the West Newton Women's Educational Club which will be presented to the aldermen asking that a larger pension be given to Mrs. Ella Mason, who, after seving over 32 years as Police Matron was retired on a pension of $25 monthly. Had Mrs. Mason been retired on a pension amounting to half her salary, as are other members of the police department, she would be receiving over $50 per month. Because of the wording of the ordinance specifying the personnel of the department (a matron not being included in the list) it was ruled that Mrs. Mason had not been a member of the department and therefore was not eligible to a pension on the same basis as are regular members of the Newton police force.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S FORUM

"What are the values of the Bible for us today" was the topic at the mother of the Young People's Forum of Wahan last Sanday evening. The discussion, under the leadership of Miss Phyllis Reinhardt, touched lightly upon all sides of the Bible—as our greatest piece of literature, as a valuable historical source-book, as a text-book in the sciences and as an inspirational guide to Christian Living.

Twenty-five new members will be initiated Thursday night at 7:30 in the Vestry of the Union Church. At this time any eligible young people who have not already done so may register and be initiated with the others. The initiation is under the charge of the initiated with the others. The initiation is under the charge of the initiation. Mr. Rufus P. Cushman is the councilor in charge of the initiation. The initiation fee is twenty-five cents, payable in advance, and thereafter there is a charge of fifty cents per month for the buflet suppers served at each meeting by a committee under the chairmanship of Elsie Stephen.

The program for the next two months has been announced by Miss Mary Stephens, vice-president of the Forum, and chairman of the Program Committee. It is as follows:

Oct. 21—An outside speaker.
Oct. 22—How much freedom should young people want?" Miss Marjoric Cody.

Nov. 4—Current events of importance. Gilbert Adams.
Nov. 11—Armistice Day—Speaker.
Nov. 18 and 25—Discussion of book a "Sorrell and Son," by Warwick Deeping, John Argesinger, Elizabeth Snow, Paul Rycroft, Charlotte Unham.
The meetings of the Forum are all held in the Vestry of the Union Church in Waban and begin with a large Won the crown, Both Order and Andreas and Andreas and Andreas and Andreas and Andreas and Andreas and Berlin with a buffet supper at 6:15, followed by the discussion at 6:30. we stand and have that to which we are entitled—the best.

I started to begin this paragraph with, "We stood on the Plains of Abraham." It would have been a true statement but it might have proved a misleading one, giving the reader the impression that I was about to indulge in a rhapsody. Well, the fact remains that we did stand on the Plains of Abraham and that standing there at the same time were other American visitors to Quebec. All were listening to the "lecture" of a soldier who eloquently described the ancient fortifications and the battles and other things that had taken place on this historic ground.

One of the group to which my friend and I had attached ourselves was a spirited American girl. She was good-looking and attractive and, as it proved, quick-witted.

The snappy little British soldier was doing his stuff in good style. I could see him throw his chest out when he came to a small cannon. "This will be of particular interest to Americans," said he in measured tones, "as it was captured by the British Army at the Battle of Bunker Hill."

I felt the thrust and I have no doubt the others "took it on the chim" as I did. The pretty Yankee girl was there with a comeback, however. She smiled sweetly at the soldier as she said, "You may have the cannon, kid, but we've still got the hill."

Now I do not wish to disparage Tommy Atkins. He is a fine fellow and his record for bravery proves his courage and patriotism. My friend and I were strolling in the vicinity of the summit of the hill. It was about nine o'clock at night. A soldier stood near a fruit stand. We saw him slip an orange off the pile. Said I, "That solder helped himself to an orange."

"I don't know why they should," my companion replied, "they get six dollars a week."

Editor's Note—It is a curious coincidence in view of Mr. Bentley's comment on the postal service in this city, that the copy for this column dropped in a letter box at Farlow Park, Newton, on Sunday morning was not delivered at the Graphic Office until Tuesday morning. Nuff sed.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

During the week ending September 28th there were 112 patients in the hospital. Of these 45 paid as much or more than cost of care, 41 paid less than cost of care and 26, including habies were treated free. Eleven babies were treated in the Operating Room. Two social service calls were made to the homes and 4 patients were transferred by the social service car.

On Monday, October first, the School of Nursing Committee began its regular monthly meetings for the year. The loss of the faithful service of Mrs. Ellery Peabody was very deeply regretted. She had been a member of the committee until the day of her death from 1906 when the Hospital uniting with the District Nursing Association, assumed the supervision of the bedside care of the patients in their homes.

The Out-Patient clinics closed during the summer opened the first of October. Last year over 6000 visits were made to these clinics.

Miss Mary M. Riddle, R.N., Superintendent of the Newton Hospital, and Superintendent of the School of Nursing, from 1904 to January 1922, has written a history of the Boston City Hospital School of Nursing of which school she is a graduate.

Eight boxes of beautiful apples were presented to the hospital by a good friend. This means delicious baked apples for all the patients.

Of the thirteen accident cases treated during the week ten were the results of automobile accidents. Nine of these were men, one was treated for fractured ribs, one for an abrasion of the forehead, one for a fractured wrist, one for a laceration of the scalp, one for a laceration of the scalp, one for a fractured mose, one for an abrasion of the scalp, one for a fractured with so, one for a fractured with so, one for a laceration of the scalp. on a Completed Street at LOCKSLEY PARK

Opposite Crystal Labe Between Newton Centre and Newton Highlands

Why build a home on an unfinished street which will be a quarmire, almost impassable in winter and dusty during other seasons? The streets at LOCKSLEY PARK are being completely finished; sewers, water, gas and electricity are being installed. Careful restrictions assure this locality being developed into a most attractive neighborhood. Accessible to both Newton Centre and Newton Highlands. Buy your home site there now and obtain the advantage of the choicest locations.

Newton High School Senior Wins Essay Contest Sponsored By K. of C.

Fifty Dollar Prize For Essay On Columbus As An Explorer Of The World

Evan R. Collins, 38 Moreland avenue, Newton Centre, a senior at Newton High School, editorial editor of the Newtonite, is the winner of the $100 essay contest sponsored by Newton Council, K. of C., in commemoration of Columbus Day. The essay contest was open to the high school students of Newton attending Newton High and Church of Our Lady High Schools. Mr. Collins will be presented with the first prize $50, at the meeting of Newton Council, Election Night, Nov. 6, at Elks Hall. Mayor Edwin O. Childs has been invited to present the awards. In addition to his interest in the drama and English activities at Newton High, Mr. Collins has attained high honors in scholastic standing and his interests have won his high standing in the Boy Scouts wherein he is a chief eagle scout.

Miss Anna M. Kerr, 15 Alden place, West Newton, a junior at Newton High School won second prize, $25; George Fitzgibbons, 245 Webster street, West Newton, a junior at Church of Our Lady High School won fourth prize, $10. The judges of the essay contest were George H. Tracy, member of the Newton School Committee, former Superintendent of Schools at Danbury, Ct., Mr. Edward Douglas, S. J., English Department, Lasell Seminary, Auburndale.

Chairman Tracy in speaking of the success of the essay contest and educational interests of the Knights of Columbus in fostering such contests.

won his high standing in the Boy Scouts wherein he is a chief eagle scout.

Miss Anna M. Kerr, 15 Alden place, West Newton, a junior at Newton High School won second prize, $25; George Fitzgibbons, 245 Webster street, West Newton, a junior at Church of Our lady High School was awarded third prize, $15; and Edward Gough, 137 Bridge street, Newton, a junior at Church of Our Lady High School was awarded third prize, $15; and Edward Gough, 137 Bridge street, Newton, a junior at Church of Our Lady High School won fourth prize, $10.

The judges of the essay contest were George H. Tracy, member of the Newton School Committee, former Superintendent of Schools at Danbury, Ct., Mr. Edward Douglas, S. J., English Department, Boston College, Miss Constance E. Blackstock, English Department, Lasell Seminary, Auburndale.

Chairman Tracy in speaking of the success of the essay contest and educational interests of the Knights of Columbus in fostering such contests says, "I think the contest holds great possibilities. The prizes which are offered are especially liberal ones. They should be much sought after, and I hope that you will make the contest a yearly event. The papers submitted this year showed careful thought on the part of the contestants. The subject matter was well handled. The material was well organized. Most of the papers showed originality of expression and the effects of careful preparation. I think the contest is especially valuable from the standpoint both of the pupils and the schools. Personally, I would like to see a great many more contestants. I am sure that if the value of the prizes is sufficiently understood, and the importance of the contest is properly appreciated, the number of contestants will materially increase. I westward-sweeping impulse of civilization.

"Columbus alone had the vision which through skill and courage, perhaps never equalled, discovered a continent, and laid the hearth-stone of each New World home. But before he was to fulfill this vision he was to know heart-breaking, scornful years, when he travelled wearily, unceasingly, from court to court, in quest of personal backing. When finally the Court of Spain had provided him with an expedition and the three tiny ships were headed westward, Columbus was to know endless days of discouragement, of vain straining of eyes for sight of land, days of storm and muttiny. A weaker man would have succumbed; a less patient man would have abandoned the quest. Only Columbus with his intrepid courage, his inspired vision and dauntless resources, could have succeeded.

"What figure in the history of exploration can equal this record of accomplishment? Prince Henry, the Navigator, although a devoted patron of exploration, was responsible for expeditions which were content with discoveries westward to the Canary Islands and the Azores, and the coast-wise exploration of Africa. Cortez, whose passion for arms was to carry him to Mexico; Balboa, who as a conquistador was to cross Panama; De Soto, who was to discover the Missis-

29,960 Voters Eligible To Cast Ballots

The tremendous interest taken in the present political campaign is evidenced by the large increase in registration in this city. When the Registrars of Voters and their assistants completed the task of listing new voters on Wednesday night at 10 p. m., a total of 29,960 names had been placed on the eligible list in Newton. Some of these names will have been taken off the list before election day because of removals from the city but the final total will be thousands more than this city had ever seen registered before. In addition to the great growth of Newton in the last six years, the fight between Hoover and Smith has aroused unprecedented interest all over the country and Newton is no exception. The workers for the two candidates have been responsible for many of the new voters, while thousands of others have come of their own volition to get their names on the lists.

Prior to the primaries about 3200 names were added. Since the primaries about 5700 more names were added. The number of voters in the different Wards and Precincts on April 1st of this year and the number on October 17th are given on the following list:—

FALL KILLS BABY

Richard, the nine months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward White of Cleveland street. West Newton, died Wednesday afternoon after having fallen from his carriage in the yard of his home. As Mrs. Cecil N. Brady of Putnam street was passing the White residence she noticed that the baby had fallen from the carriage onto the ground and she hastened to its assistance. In falling the baby had become covered with clothing and was

Aldermen Vote To Increase Water Rates After Spirited Discussion

Alderman Bail Criticised For Entering Employ Of Cleaning Company Doing Work For City

The Board of Aldermen at its meeting on Monday night voted to increase the rates charged for water in Newston. The minimum meter rate was increased from $9 to $10, the rate per 100 cubic feet from 20 cents to 25 cents and the wholesale rate for users taking more than 1000 cubic feet aday was raised from 8 cents per 100 cubic feet to 12 cents per hundred cubic feet.

Alderman Baker, chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee, reporting that this committee had approved of the proposed increase, reviewed the history of the Water Department since it was established in the early 70s of the last century. He showed how expenses have been increasing and told of a present deficit of $117, 600, which includes $30,000 in uncollected bills and $22,000 occasioned by a shortage in the supplies account because of non-existence of supplies which have been carried as assets on recent inventories of the department. He advocated wiping out this large when the water to persons two years that the new well at the water reservation in Newston's obtained by pumping water from the Charles River into a valley on the increased supply obtained by pumping water from the Charles River into a valley on the increased supply obtained by pumping water from the Charles River into a valley on the increased supply obtained by pumping water from the Charles River into a valley on the new well at the water reservation in Newston's obtained by pumping water from the Charles River into a valley on the increased supply obtained by pumping water from the Charles River into a valley on the increased supply obtained by pumping water from the Charles River into a valley on the increased supply obtained by pumping water from the Charles River into a valley on the increased supply obtained by pumping water from the Charles River into a valley on the increased supply obtained by pumping water from the Charles River into a valley on the increased supply obtained by pumping water from the Charles River into a valley on the increased supply obtained by pumping a which have been carried as assets on ecent inventories of the department. He advocated wiping out this large leficit by sufficiently increasing the rates so that the revenue for the roming year will be large enough to accomplish this thing. The proposed necreases in the rates, according to Mr. Baker, should bring about $70,000 n increased revenue. He dissented from the report of the majority of the Claims and Rules Committee and suggested that the rate be raised to 25 cents per hundred cubic feet rather than to 25 cents.

Alderman Gallagher agreed with cents per hundred cubic feet rather in than to 25 cents.

Alderman Gallagher agreed with Mr. Baker that the increase should be to 28 cents instead of 25 cents and he also favored making the minimum charge $11 rather than $10. He deprecated the arguments which had been advanced against the higher minimum rate because it would be a hardship on poor people. He asserted that while the trouble was being experienced a year or two ago with the sediment in the city water, he had observed more poor families than wealthy families in the city using spring water from carboys. He reviewed the work which has been done in improving the water supply of the city during the past few years and told of the enormous Ware River and Swift River projects of the Metropolitan systems, which he claimed will cost $77,000,000—a considerable portion of which cost must be paid by Newton because of the probability that the local water-supply will not be sufficient and Newton will be forced to take water from the Metropolitan system. He predicted that Greater Boston water users will soon have to pay three times as much for water as they now pay.

by bond issues.

Alderman Noone inquired if Newton is furnishing water to persons and corporations outside the city limits. Alderman Bail answered that a few places across the Charles River on the Weston side are being supplied. According to Alderman Baker this practice is contrary to the ordinances of the city.

this practice is contrary to the ordinances of the city.

Alderman Heathcote objected to the rates being increased without further investigation. He lauded Water Commissioner Whitney for the devotion to duty he has shown during his long term of service. He asserted that after all the money which has been expended on the water reservation during the past several years to increase the supply, this result has not been achieved and the supply is no greater than before. He read rates charged by other cities in this State to show that the rates charged by Newton are at present higher. Mr. Heathcote contended that much of the expense charged to the Water Department such as the new 20-inch main and new hydrants, should be charged against the Fire Department for added fire protection. He called attention to the fact that until this year the Water Department furnished large amounts of water to other city departments without reimbursement, thus adding to the deficits.

According to Mr. Heathcote the expenses of conducting the Water Department have seemingly increased since the special committees were appointed a few years ago. He asked if the increased rates are desired to he increased rates are desired to we further unnecessary expenses he conduct of the department. He icised Alderman Bail, chairman of special committee for becoming ociated with the National Water

SUBURBAN LEAGUE STANDING

SPORT NOTES

Coach Jess Hawley of the Dartmouth varsity recently promoted several players on the squad to the training table. Among those chosen were Leonard Clark of Newton Highlands and Henry L. Johnson, Jr., of Waban. Both are backfield men and have shown promise in substitute roles in the Green's games thus far this season.

First Quarter

Harrington kicked off to Ward on Everett's 25-yard line where the latter fumbled but recovered in time to prevent Scheinfain from dropping on the ball. Baldwin went outside on a one yard gain. Ward attempted to go through tackle but was nailed by Harrington who tackled so hard that the ball bounced out of Ward's arms, Again Carl Fescosolido, Newton's speedy fullback was "Johnny-on-the-spot" as he was in the Belmont game, took the oval on the fly and raced 30 yards for a touchdown. It began to look as though the jinx Everett and held over Newton had lost its hold. It was Newton's first break in an Everett game in five years. The Everett line was overanxious on the try for the point and being offstide the officials awarded Newton the point. But the Everett team refused to crack. Pagliucia kicked of to Perry on the latter's 20-yard line, who ran it back 15 yards. On the first play the Everett left tackle was offside and Everett drew a five-yard penalty. Gilligan made two yards and Perry was shy on a first down by six inches. Gilling fumbled on the next play and the point. But the Everett recovered on Newton's 45-yard mark. Jack Gardiner, playing left tackle for Newton, stopped two plays for no gain with smashing tackles of Ward and Harkins but a pass from Harkins to Ward was completed for iwenty yards and affirst down. Second Quarter

A forward pass was incompleted and Harkins kicked to Perry on the Newton 20-yard line where Borden dropped Perry in his tracks with a smashing tackle. Gilligan immediately kicked back to Harkins on Everett's 45-yard stripe and the Everett's afety man ran the ball back 15 yards. Collbus took Ward's place in the Everett backfield and Duane tossed him for a 12-yard loss on an attempted end run. A forward pass was incomplete and Harkins kicked. bishy again came back into the backfield but in three line plunges picked up but five yards so that Pagliucia had to try a field goal which did not go ten feet in the air. Newton put the ball in play on the 20-yard line and after two plays Gilligan kicked to midfield. Time out was called to allow one of the players to be treated for a minor injury and Pagliucia, unnoticed, slipped over to the Everett gain and played the "dead man" stunt. Harkins lobbed the ball over to him but Duane nailed him on the 30-yard line. Had the pass been fast and low Everett would have had another touchdown then and there. Two more passes were incompleted and Harkins kicked outside on the 15-yard line. Gilligan immediately kicked back to midfield. Pagliucia, Harkins and Baldwin made a first down. Pagliucia and Baldwin were stopped for no gain and a pass from Harkins to his right end was for 12 yards and a first down on Newton's 20-yard line as the whistle blew to end the haif with Newton still one point ahead, 7 to 6.

NEWTON PRACTICE

EVERETT HOLDS INCHES FROM GOAL

Everett, by a magnificent stand inches from their goal line in the closing minutes of the Newton-Everett game last Friday afternoon at Everett, sent the orange and black outfut down to its first defeat of the season in a torrid game. The final score was Everett et 12, Newton 9. The game was just satorrid as the weather and the excessive heat took a great deal out of both teams with the Everett players looking even more wilted than Newton's. As a game Everett deserved to win. One of its touchdowns was earned after a march haif the length of the field while the other was the direct result of a Newton fumble. On the other hand Newton's lone touchdown came as the direct result of a fumble and it was kept from the goal a second time by Everett's stand. Except for this final effort the Newton line out played the Gildea forwards, more particularly defensively. Offensively fumbling of the ball by the backfield contributed greatly to the defeat.

First Quarter

Harrington kicked off to Ward on Everett's 25-yard line where the latter fumbled but recovered in time to prevent Scheinfain from dropping on the ball. Baddwin went outside on Everett's 30-yard mark. Spies of a rival league team watched the Newton high school eleven practice last week from a point of vantage on Hull street near the foot of Beaumont avenue, overlooking Claflin Field. Thursday morning it was reported to Coach Sullivan that Wednesday afternoon during the practice session of the eleven a car had been parked on Hull street and that one of its occupants had been using field glasses. Thursday afternoon as the eleven was running through signal drill the Newton mentor saw a car on Hull street that made him think the spies had returned. He sent one of the assistant managers on a roundabout trip which would bring the latter past the car with instructions to note the registration number of the machine if anyone in it was using field glasses. The lad did as he was told and later Coach Sullivan proceeded to the policy station where he machine if anyone in it was using field glasses. The lad did as he was told and later Coach Sullivan proceeded to the police station where he discovered the car was registered in the name of a rival league coach. The Newton authorities and coaches have refused to comment on the affair.

Inasmuch as there is no Suburban league ruling prohibiting such tactics nothing can be done about the matter by the league officials although it unquestionably is about the most unsportsmanlike trick that any high school ever stooped to perform or that any other high school ever had practiced upon it. Newton welcomes its rivals at any of its games and many times has offered passes to opposing coaches. When a school coach uses such unquestionable methods to done then it is time that that coach be barred. If this cannot be done then it is time that the school employing such coaching methods should be dropped from the schedule, regardless of consequencs. If the Suburban league school whose coach resorted to such tactics or allowed the use of his car for the purpose does not take steps to censure him and prevent any repetition of the affair at any time against any other of its opponents, Newton should withdraw from the Suburban league. Surely Newton is big enough to stand in its own and not subject itself to such unsportsmanlike methods.

Tommy Gilligan again played a substitute role in the Harvard-North Carsolina game last Saturday in the Stadium, which the Crimson won 20 to 0. Several long runs by the former Newton star were outstanding in the game, although he scored no touchdowns. He did make one of the Harvard points with a goal after a touchdown which his running had made possible. Several of the critics at the game seemed to think that Gilligan showed better at halfback than at quarterback, both of which he played. Tommy also intercepted one Carolina pass in the Harvard end zone to save an almost cerard end zone to save an almost cer-

If God is Love, then man must love If God is Love, then man must love his fellow man. The only reason for self-sacrificing service to others is the idea that God is Love. Aside from that, you would have nothing, except, of course, the care of one's own children, which is no better than the lower animals.

Jesus lived and died as though the full explanation of life can only be given in terms of love. If He "has shown us the Father," the Father must be the God of Love.

The basic assumption of the Christope is the idea that God is Love.

While we have no doubt whatever of the honesty and integrity of Alderman Henry W. Ball, we are sorry that any member of the city government should lay himself open to suspicion that his actions as an alderman were affected by his business relations, or possibly it should be said the other way, that his business relations were due to his actions as an alderman. Newton is not accustomed to situations of this sort and we hope it will not become popular.

With such an able and likeable candidate for the United States Senate as Loring Young, we cannot believe he will be cut by members of the Resulting that the state of the Resulting that the s he will be cut by members of the republican party, even for such a smooth campaigner as Senator David I. Mary Madonia, 16, daughter of Guiseppe Madonia of 5 Dudley road, Newton Centre, committed suicide last Thursday morning at her home by shooting herself through the heart.

Thursday morning at her home by shooting herself through the heart. Several weeks ago the girl disappeared from her home and her father offered a $500 reward in an attempt to locate her. She returned home on October 8 and it was learned that she had gone to New York with Mario Sinatura of East Boston. Sinatura of sate boston court on the charges of deserting his wife and three children and on a statutory charge. The Madonia girl was to have been a witness against him and, brooding over her predicament, ended her life.

Medical Examiner George West went to Madonia home shortly after the girl had killed herself. While he was in the house the girl's brother rushed out, jumped into Dr. West's car and speeded off towards Brookline, where when stopped by a policeman, he explained that he was on his way to East Boston to wreak venegence on his sister's seducer.

ALDERMEN MEET

A familiar petition opened the docket at the meeting of the Board of Alderman last Monday night. For the fourth (or fifth) time within the past couple of years Cashman & Ginsberg petitioned for a permit to conduct a gasoline filling station at 2285 Washington street, Lower Mills. The previous petitions had been turned down each time by the vote of the Board aithough the last petition was approved by a majority of the Licenses Committee. Apparently the petitioners desire to make another attempt while they have a Franchise and Licenses Committee which has shown a favorable disposition towards them.

following petitions — Saco-Lowell Shops, for a permit to conduct a gasoline station at Linden and Chestnut streets, Upper Falls; Johanna McDonald, permit for 3 car garage at 78 Gardner street, Newton; Amelia Rock and, permit for sea gardy and and, permit for sea gardy well, permit to keep and store 250 gallons of gasoline for private use at Studio road, Auburndale; Albin Kenjeski, permit for 4 car garage at 690 (Grove street, Lower Falls.

No objectors appeared against the petitions of the Edison and Telephone companies for pole locations on these streets—Rockland, High, and Elm. Neither did objectors appear to the laying out and acceptance of the following streets under the General Law—Arnold, Athelstane, Cedric and Estabrook roads and Homestead street. When the hearings on the petitions for contruction of sewers were announced, the only protest came from a resident on Washington avenue, a new street.

on Washington avenue, a new street in West Newton. The other streets where sewers are desired included— Berkshire, Walnut Hill and Woodclift roads, Fairfield, Milo and Noble streets, Beethoven avenue and Craigi

The Franchises and Licenses Committee reported favorably on the petition of Joseph P. Switzer for a public garage and gasoline station at 441 Watertown street, Nonantum. Alderman Heathcote requested that action on this petition be deferred until the November meeting to allow him more time to investigate it. He called attention to other petitions presented in former years for garages and filling stations, which after being granted resulted in the filling stations being erected, but no garages. He advocated that Mr. Switzer be compelled to furnish a bond to assure the building of the garage. Chairman Hawkins of the Licenses Committee explained that the option of Mr. Switzer on the property expires this month, so that action on this matter could not be delayed. He stated that the petitioner possesses sufficient character to assume the carrying out of his promises and he invited Mr. Heathcote to meet with the sufficient character to assume the carrying out of his promises and he in vited Mr. Heathcote to meet with the Licenses Committee at its recess conference and examine the plans of the proposed garage and station. Alder man Heathcote conferred with the committee during the recess, Mr. Switzer agreed to have the garage practically completed before being grantef all the station permit and the Board.

zer agreed to have the garage practically completed before being granted a filling station permit, and the Board voted to grant him the desired permits under this condition.

On the recommendation of the Licenses Comm'ttee the Board voted to grant a permit to Vincent Squires to move a house from 14 Stone avenue to 19 Lawrence avenue, Chestnut Hill. The house was the property of Jack Sharkey, the puglist, or as Gene Tunney would have it, "a professional boxer." Like Mr. Tunney, and unlike many in his profession, Mr. Sharkey, or Mr. Cukoshay (as he was Christened) is a clean living, shrewd, young man. He d'-l not squander the large returns he has received the past few years for trading wallops with other exponents of the manly art. After his bouts the past year or so with Jack Dempsey and Tom Heeney, Mr. Sharkey felt so prosperous that he decided to replace the attractive little home of his at Chestnut Hill by a larger and better constructed residence.

The former residence of Mr. Shar-

The former residence of Mr. Shar key was sold, contingent upon a per mit being granted for its moving, to mit being granted for its moving, to a person owning property on Lawrence road. When the matter of granting the permit for the moving of the house came before the Licenses Committee, Winthrop Hammond of Lee road, whose property is located near the site where it is proposed to move the house, entered strenuous objections. He predicted that the building will block the heavy traffic on Beacon street for several days, rather than 3 hours as claimed by the petitioner, and he also predicted that the house will collapse in the process of moving. Alderman Temperley was sufficiently influenced by the possibility of traffic being delayed, to reserve his rights. He, and the other members of the committee were assured that no trees will be damaged by the moving of the house. After investigating, Mr. Temperley concluded that the house will not block traffic on Beacon street for a period much longer than specified by the petitioner. Alderman Pratt was apprehensive that it will, but the other members of the Board did not concur with him and voted to grant a permit to move the building. It will be interesting to observe whether, or not Mr. Hammond's predictions will come true.

Petitions reported on adversely by

Petitions reported on adversely by the Licenses Committee and given leave to withdraw included those of Margaret Bridey, 1295 Boylston street for the removal of an Edison Light pole, Frank Roberts for a permit to have 6 pool tables upstairs at 277 Washington street, Waban Tire Com-pany for a gasoline station at 6 Windroad, Jacob Kligman for a gasoline station at 456 Watertown street. The Claims and Rules Committee reported adversely on the claims of Policeman William Maloney for the loss of 2 1-2 weeks pay, James W. Messenger for damage to his automobile, Victor Romagnoli for waiver of the set-back line on Normandy road, Auburndale. Maloney was injured when his car was hit by the automobile which killed a young woman on Walnut street, Newtonville, several months ago. Messenger's automobile skidded on slippery tar on Temple street, West Newton and was damaged. Romagnoli wanted a waiver so he can face a new house on Auburn street, but the Zoning Laws forbid such a waiver being granted when a lot is large enough to render such a waiver unnecessary. Claims approved by the Claims and Rules Committee included those of Mary E. Sloan for injuries occasioned by a defective sidewalk, Thomas J. Burke for injuries received in the performance of his duty as a pulceman $20 additional on the ceived in the performance of his d as a policeman, $30 additional on Forsythe & Smith claim for land do ages occasioned by the widening of Auburn and Grove streets. The mest from the Health Department $40 additional salary for the Sanitary nspector in that department.

The Board voted to authorize change ing the polling places for Precincts and 2 in Ward 2, Newtonville.

Odorous Onion Liked by All World Races

Onlons seem to be almost as old as the hills. They are mentioned in the Bible as one of the things longed for by the Israelites in the wilderness and complained about to Moses, Herodo tus says that in his time there was an inscription on the Great Pyramid stating the sum expended for onions, radishes, and garlic, which had been consumed by the laborers during its erection, as 1,600 talents. Ancient pic-tures show priests holding onions in their hands at the altar.

Early explorers, including Columbus, brought onion seed to the New world. New Englanders were raising them as early as 1634, and General Sullivan, in 1779, in his raid against the Indians in central New York, de-stroyed many onion fields belonging to the savages. Nineteen states now produce large commercial crops of onions. Texas scents up the whole official of the Atlantic with her onion-laden vessels bound for New York.—Peter Sterling in National Republic Magazine.

Weather Has Little

Influence on Tides Contrary to popular belief, especially that long cherished by many seamen, tides do not exert any influence on the weather, according to mete-orologists of the weather bureau United States Department of Agricul

ers have discovered that certain ex treme weather conditions affect the tides to some extent. Tides ebb and flow at every point on the coast with clocklike regularity. Nevertheless, the weather continues to be fair or foul irrespective of those tides. On the other hand, conditions of very low barometric pressure and very strong winds from favorable directions cause either unusually low or unusually high tides, as the case may be. This is the influence of the weather on the tides, and the weather is not the result of any tidal influence.

Even when there is, as meteorolog ists understand, a very insignificant outflow of air from a region into outflow of air from a region into which the tide is rising, or a corre sponding inflow of air as the tide sub sides, this does not constitute a sig

Almond Raising

Almonds comprise the most impor-tant crop of the island of Majorca, where many varieties are cultivated and the industry is so prosperous that as old olive trees die they are replaced by almonds.

When the almonds are almost ripe they are knocked off the branches by long bamboo poles and then picked up by women and children. The nuts are separated from the husks after dry ing, and the shells are then broken by hand or machinery and the kernels extracted.

Man Long Forgotten Gave Name to Mount

Obscurity and fame exist side by ide on Mount Robson, 12,972 feet, highest peak in the Canadian Rockies. The mountain itself is widely known it stands at the head of the Grand Forks valley. But the origin of its name and the manner of its naming have rested long in the shadows.

The legend came down from a tribe of the Shuswap Indians, who in the early Nienteenth century had worked their way from the west coast into the mountains. They had a small encampment on the banks of the Fraser.

Long ago, they say when white

Long ago, they say, when white men were seldom seen in the moun-tains, a party of these strangers came in over Yellowhead pass from the East and camped close to the river with the mountain high above them. Their horses were poor and thin. They had traveled far.

The newcomers sat long into the twilight, made silent by the closeness of this mighty column of ice and rock that reached into the skies. Never be-fore, they declared, had they come

In the morning they gathered their horses and prepared to shoe those that needed it. A blacksmith was in the party. As he grasped a hind foot the borne sensed and blacked. Concerning Canaries

The biological survey says that the actual origin of the canary as a cage bird is obscure. It seems probable that captive canaries were first se-cured from the Canary islands, but it is doubtful that this stock has fur-nished ancestors of all our birds of this kind. The serin finch of middle and southern Europe is so similar that it may often have been captured and accepted as a canary and inter-bred until all distinguishable differences were lost.

Theory of Arrhenius

Syante August Arrhenius, the noted Swedish chemist and physicist, beneeds that life is an interstellar element and may be transmitted from one planet to another. According to his conception, life is universally dif-fused and is constantly emitted from all habitable worlds in the form of spores. These spores traverse space or years, and possibly ages. The maority of them are ultimately de-stroyed by the heat of some blazing tar, but some few, he thinks, find a resting place on bodies which have already reached the habitable stage. Life, according to Arrhenius, may also be transmitted from one heavenly oody to another by means of meteors. -Pathfinder Magazine.

Kenilworth castle is in Warwick-hire, England. It has figured promisince, England. It has ingured proma-aently in the history of the country. In 1575 it was the scene of 19 days' entertainment of Queen Elizabeth by the earl of Leicester. The walls originally inclosed an area of 7 acres. The principal portions of the building remaining are the gatehouse, now used as a dwelling house; Caesar's tower, the only portion built by Geoffrey de Scott's "Kenilworth"; the great hall, built by John of Gaunt, with windows of very beautiful design, and the Leicester buildings, which are in a very ruinous condition.

Silver in Olden Days

Whatever the difference in mechan-ical aspects, in many respects our modern life parallels closely the lives of the ancients. The noble and aristocratic Egyptians and Greeks had an exquisite appreciation of the niceties of life. One of their most cherished treasures was their sterling silver, which they had in abundance and from which they had in abundance and from which they drank and feasted. It was their accredited tableware as it was of the nobles of the Roman empire. Cups and vessels of this precious metal have come down to us through the ages in a perfect state of preser

The boys gymnasium classes on good days are practicing the fundamentals of football outdoors. Mr. Converse, the instructor, is giving instruction in center and forward passing. The two footballs are kept busy by two squads who pass and receive passes among themselves. Following this, the boys pass, then center, run out and receive a pass in rotation. When Mr. Converse thinks they are well versed in these fundamentals, a short game of tag football is organized in which there is keen competition.

A Wizard at Sixteen

Newtonians, meet "Jack" J. Harman, Jr., Newton Centre's 16-year-old wizard. "Jack" despite his youthful age, is the supreme champion of all the "Handy Andys" in this vicinity, and is without doubt one of the cleverest young chaps in Greater Boston, when it comes to performing manual magic with the half-score digits which nature has endowed him.

Before we tell you all about the latest clever things which "Jack" has created, it is well, perhaps, that you should know that he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Harman, Sr., of 12 Glen wood avenue, and is a senior at Newton High.

miniature "Bremen" is a perfect copy of the famous Atlantic hopper.

An idea of the tremendous amount of work put into the model is gained when one is informed that there are approximately 1,000 separate and distinct pieces which compose the plane—consisting of tissue and rice paper, cardboard, twine, wood of different kinds, including bamboo and balsa, plano wire, rubber, isinglass and other what-nots, including glue.

The model was made from a blue-print. It has a 36-inch spread, and is 21 inches long. It is lacquered in silver, and its name "Bremen" and license number 7-11-13 is painted in black. Despite its numerous parts, the airship is a veritable featherweight, tipping the Harman scales at 7 onnces to the dot.

The model is propelled by means of a strong rubber band, 20 feet long, double strength. One end is hooked onto the propeller, the other to a stick held in the hand. The rubber is twisted around and around, is then released from the propeller and the stick as suddenly as possible and away sails the "Bremen" on its now famous "around Glenwood Ridge avenue flight." The plane, after shooting approximately 1,000 feet into the air, can sail a distance of about 1,500 feet, straight as an "Al" Smith crow can stagger.

Jack Harman's abilities are not all limited to airplane making. One of the best students in Newton High School, he is grasping the subjects of his course with a thorough understanding. He is a senior, and next fall intends to enter the Mass. Institute of Technology, where he will concentrate on draftsmanship. He is a first-class scout of Troop 5, Newton Centre, and was a member of the Four-Square Club, which passed out about three years ago. Several sailing ship models he has made have won him prizes in various boy scout ingenuity and craftsmanship contests, not only in Massachusetts, but in other New England States as well. The voyage of the "Graf Zeppelin" furnished further evidence that man will continue to travel on the surface when he wishes to cross the Atlantic and other oceans. Both the "heavier than air" and "lighter than air" planes and ships must wait for weeks until the weather is favorable and them—if a strong breeze meets them while crossing the ocean, they are gither lost or reach safety after great peril. Man's habitat is on the ground, not in the air, and, despite all the ballyhoo about airplanes supplanting ravel by land and water vehicles, the great majority of people will continue to use boats, trains and automobiles. —Mrs. Joseph W. home. And, they talk about the "unspeakable Turk."

The Boston papers recently contained the news of the death at West Hampstead, New Hampshire, of Mrs. Sarah George who was 107 years old, supposed to be the oldest woman in that State. She was survived by two children, Charles George and Miss Annie George, the latter a retired school teacher.

From 1883 until 1895 a Miss Annie George taught at the Bigelow School under Henry Chapin Sawin. During our last year at the Bigelow School Miss George taught (or endeavored to teach) the writer. In addition to teaching us readin', 'riting and 'rithmetic, Miss George had the task that year of attempting to teach the pupils in her class algebra and Latin. That year, the School Committee, against the good judgment of George I. Aldrich, one of the most capable superinendents of schools this city ever had, introduced these subjects into the grammar schools. Mr. Aldrich had, introduced these subjects into the grammar schools had not anticipated being called upon to teach these subjects and were not qualified, especially in Latin, to do so. But, the school committee insisted and we kids started to learn Latin and algebra.

The unfortunate teachers had to plug on Latin and algebra during their summer vacation that year, had to take private lessons in these subjects and then became, in many instances nervous wrecks trying to impart the knowledge they had obtained through intensive study to the youngsters in their classes. We got along fairly well with the Latin—but the algebra. The following year Miss George, to gether with a number of other Newton teachers resigned. Perhaps they thought that they might be called upon to teach Sansertt and calculus had they remained. Miss George, who was a competent teacher, obtained a position in the Boston schools.

The other day we reminded a resident of Newton, who resides not a the university there.

We have heard complaints made by persons in this city of a couple of instances where teachers in public schools of Newton have allowed their enthusiasm to exceed propriety in the present political campaign. We have been told that a couple of teachers supplied their pupils with pins bearing the name of the candidate who happens to be other than the candidate favored by the parents of some of the children thus supplied. In Newton, as in other places, teachers, particularly public school teachers, should be compelled to refrain from partisan political activity.

cloudy days. The streets should not be unilluminated for even 5 or 10 minutes after darkness falls.

There is a city ordinance which There is a city ordinance which forbids automobiles being parked within 10 feet of the start of the curve of curbing at street intersections. This ordinance should be enforced particularly at the points where the blind bridges over the B. tracks about Washington stree is a daily occurrence to have some toist park his car within 10 feet at the parking area on Washington street. A line should be painted on Washington street to define the limit of the parking space.

About midnight on Saturday last we approached the corner of Washington and Adams streets and observed an automobile stopped on the street with a man, taking off, so it seemed, the spare tire. As we arrived alongside the car we recognized the autoist who was in trouble as a well known citizen of Newton. It was not tire trouble which had stopped his progress home at midnight. It was complete shortage of gasoline. He had been so active campaigning for Al Smith during the day that he had allowed the gasoline supply in his car to become exhausted without noticing it. At that hour of the night the gasoline stations had closed so the w.k.c. resorted to the expedient of walking to a filling station about a third of a mile distant, taking a large can used to pour water in radiators, draining the hose on three pumps, obtaining about a quart of gasoline therefrom and then returning to his stalled car. Then he found that he could not pour the gasoline from the 8 quart can into the opening on his gasoline tank, so, when we came upon him he was pouring the quart of gasoline tank, so, when we came upon him he was pouring the quart of gasoline tank. One quart of gasoline emptied into the large tank at the rear of the car availed nothing. The automobile would not start. We suggested that if some gasoline were put into the vacuum tank the motor might start, so we contributed another quart of gasoline for this purpose and the w.k.c. managed to drive his car home.

We have called attention several times in the GRAPHIC to the reckess driving of automobiles on Pearl treet, Newton, that narrow, much ravelled highway from Newton Correr to Nonantum, with many dangeres intersections. We have suggested hat a police trap be operated on this treet to catch the speeders and thus revent added accidents to the many erious ones which have already ocurred on Pearl street. Another very erious accident occurred there on the day, we again suggest a police rap on Pearl street.

Texas in Lead

In his first message to the congress of the republic of Texas, in December, 1838, President Mirabeau B. Lamar strongly urged provision for public education. A quotation from his message appears upon every publication of the state system. Each year some $8,000,000 of state money is spent on higher education, and Texas has the largest permanent school fund of any state.

Side Dishes Feature of Norwegian Dinner

We spent two nights at Stalheim, Norway, which is not a village or even a hamlet; merely a hotel su-perbly situated above and almost against a tremendous waterfall at a point where two great valleys inter-sect, A. Edward Newton relates in the Atlantic Monthly.

Here it was that we first encoun tered the abundance of hors d'oeuvre for which Norway is famous. Upon entering the dining room one noticed a great table running almost the entire length of the room; upon it were piles of plates and an immense quan-tity of food, chiefly fish, salted, smoked, oiled, boiled—all cold—and cold meats, with an endless variety of

One was expected to take a plate help one's self-"cut and come again and take one's place at the table, when some single hot dish, with tea, coffee or chocolate, was brought by a maid prettily dressed in native costume.

To one bored to extinction by the ordinary table d'hote it was a pleas ant change.

Hawaiian Queen's Odd Assertion of Kinship

One of the court officers said to me during Queen Victoria's jubilee: "Royalties are here from every country and among those who have come over is Liliuokalani, queen of the Ha-walian islands. She is as insistent of her royal rights as the emperor of Germany. We have consented that she should be a guest at a dinner of our queen and spend the night at Windsor castle. We have settled her place among the royalties in the pro ssion through London and offered cession through London and outered her the hussars as her guard of honor. She insists, however, that she shall have the same as the other kings, a company of the Guards. Having recognized her, we are obliged to

Colonial Beauty Lasting

Why is the simple Colonial style of the early American period one of in imitable dignity and loveliness?

Why does the old German castle the French chalet, the Italian villa o the quaint English cottage charm us even though built a century or more Their builders did not set out to duplicate foreign individualities. A cottage; neither did a German count want a Spanish bungalow, And Just so did the American colonists want architectural expressions of their own those expressions which have since been rendered traditional and per-petuated as classic.—Keith's Maga-

Rat Enemy of Human Race

"The rat's destructiveness is not confined to crops and property," says a recent official statement issued by the biological survey, "The animal menaces human life as well. This rodent is responsible for more deaths among human beings than all the wars of history. Not all the fatal epidemics were bubonic plague but enough of them have been so identified to show that almost every century of the Christian era has had at least one vis-itation from this scourge, which de-stroyed millions of people."

To Prevent Steel Rusting

Coautchouc oil is said to have prove efficient in preventing rust on steel and to have been adopted by the German army. It only requires to be spread with a piece of flannel, in a very thin layer, over the metallic surface and allowed to dry up. Such a coating will afford security against all atmospheric influences and will not show any cracks under the microscope after a year's standing. To remove it the article has simply to be treated after 12 to 24 hours.

Devastating Plagues

The great plague of London, which killed more than half the inhabitants who did not flee the city, was by no means the worst outbreak that has been so recorded. The plague called "black death" devastated Europe for "black death" devastated Europe for 50 years in the Fourteenth century, destroying two-thirds to three-fourths of the population of large territories and one-fourth of all the people, or about 20,000,000 persons. Since 1896 plague has carried away more than 10,000,000 people in India alone.—Ex-

OUR SCHOOLS

To The Editor:

Without questioning the ethics of making but a small increase in the tax rate and an unexpected addition to the assessments, the fact remains that the usually apathetic taxpayers are considerably exercised this autumn. Schools are the greatest item of cost in the city government. A fine educational system is desirable, but in this crisis school efficiency ought to be strictly examined. As a public school teacher I have long been distressed by the universal inefficiency and waste in schools. I have often made the remark that if the public only realized conditions, they would not be tolerated.

Here I can state only in a general way some of the most crying faults:

1. There is an unwholesome spirit of emulation among school officials to make a fine surface appearance. It results in a vicious circle.

2. There is a definite effort on the part of school officials to stultify courses for political reasons. This is a well considered statement.

3. The regrettable attitude of the public toward disciplinary matters. Schools should be democratic (for the benefit of the majority), not aristocratic (for the vicious tenth).

4. The failure of parents to realize that a diploma means nothing in itself. A diploma is only as good as the school that issues it.

Even as a small boy a quarter of a century ago in the Bigelow School I was impressed by waste in time and money. This is said with all respect to the memory of that great teacher, Principal H. Chapin Sawin. Teachers often say that because of outside interests students nowadays generally do not study as well as they did twenty years ago when I was in Newton High School. I do not agree. In my work as a high school department head, in one school I gained the grudging consent of my superiors to consolidate courses, increase the efficiency of my department and avoid replacing a teacher who left, a yearly savings of $1500. In another school efficiency of my department and avoid replacing a teacher who left, a yearly savings of $1500. In another school I saved over $5000—on a wholly unsecessary item of equipment. The school committee would have endorsed the recommendation of the superintendent because they did not know. I received a letter of appreciation from them.

Thousands of dollars could and should be saved in the Newton should be saved in the Newton schools. They ought to be operated not only more economically but more efficiently and reduce taxes.

POOR SERVICE

Editor, Newton Graphic:

In the Newton Graphic issue of Oct. 12th, Mr. Bentley mentioned the service of the Newton postoffice since Newton Centre postoffice assumed the duties of main office. I wish to add that in our experience the service is most unsatisfactory. We have a daily paper sent from Utica, N. Y. The paper mailed Saturday morning, Oct. 13 and the issue of Oct. 15 reached our home on Wednesday, Oct. 17th when formerly we had received the paper on the same day it was mailed at the afternoon delivery—and a letter mailed at Newtonville at night was delivered two days after it was mailed.

Is this improvement in our mail service?

MERICAN standards of living are the highest in the world—and steadily improving.

American wages are by far the highest in the world - and steadily advancing.

American workers have the shortest hours in the world—and they are steadily becoming less.

American homes have more conveniences, more comforts, and more luxuries than any other homes in the world.

Americans own more automobiles, wear better clothes, have more amusements and more plentiful food than the citizens of any other country in the world.

Hold Herbert Hoover on the Job!

"Real wages and standards of living of our labor have improved more during the past seven and a half years of Republican rule than during any similar period in the history of this or any other country"- says Herbert Hoover-and he knows-for, a Secretary of Commerce for Calvin Coolidge he more than any other individual directed the business policies which made it so!

Our National progress has been built upon time tested Republican policies—not untried and doubtful experiments. WHY CHANGE NOW?

Republican tariff protection has increased the comfort and happiness of every American clerk-worker and farmer-merchant and manufacturer.

Republican restricted immigration has protected American wage-earners from a flood of cheap labor that would lower wages and cause unemployment.

Republican export policies have increased our foreign sales of American surplus industrial and agricultural products from $3,750,000,000 in 1922 to $4,840,000,000 in 1927—over a billion dollars increase—the means of livelihood for more than two million American families.

Why trade such proven benefits for a phantom glass of beer?

Under able management we can confidently expect these proved Republican policies to

Prosperity didn't "just happen"

As shown by Herbert Hoover's statements:

Every man has a right to ask of us whether the United States is a better place for him, his wife and his children to live in, because the Republican Party has conducted the government for nearly eight years. Every woman has a right to ask whether her life, her home, her man's job, her hopes, her happiness, will be better assured by the continuance of the Republican Party in power.

Higher Wages

Higher Wages

. . the average of real wages
is higher today than ever before.
And the arduous hours of labor have decreased. We can easily prove this. As a standard of comparison, let us take the purchasing power of wages in 1913 or before the war.
In purchasing power we consider both the dollars and the cost of living. Taking this standard we shall find that real wages at the height of find that real wages at the height of the war inflation were about 30 per cent over 1913. Despite the great cent over 1913. Despite the great after-war slump they have risen until today they are over 50 per cent greater than before the war. Viewed in another way, while the cost of living today is about 60 points on the index above pre-war, wages are 1975, where Percellel with the interval of the cost of the cost of the state of the cost of the co 127 above. Parallel with this increase in real wages the average hours of labor have steadily de-

Moreover, our real wages and our standards of living are the highest in the world. And I am again speaking of the real buying power of

High Standard of Living

Our workers with their average weekly wages can today buy two and often three times more bread and butter than any wage earner of Europe. At one time we demanded We have now gone far beyond that conception. Today we demand larger comfort and greater participation in life and leisure.

Most of all, I like to remember Most of all, I like to remember what this progress has meant to America's children. The portal of their opportunity has been ever widening. While our population has grown but 8 per cent we have increased by 11 per cent the number of children in our grade schools, by 66 per cent the number in our high schools, and by 75 per cent the number. schools, and by 75 per cent the num-ber in our institutions of higher learning. Acceptance Speech, August 11, 1938 More Jobs and More Wages

On any calculation our exports have increased by over one billion dollars during the past seven years. This is an increase of 41 per cent since 1922 and an increase of 58 per cent over pre-war.

It is no accident which has brought about this unique situation in the United States. It is not chance that has brought this added employment for American workmen, and added markets for American farmers. Things like that don't happen.

More than two million families in the United States earn their living today producing goods for export, and another million families earn their living in the manufacture of raw materials which we import in exchange for our exports. This increase in exports has brought a living to 500,000 families. This means ing to 500,000 families. This means more than statistics. It means higher standards of living—more jobs melice more wages. Foreign trade is no artificial stimulant to employment. Its development is a vital contribution to the welfare of the American workman and the American farmer. I propose that we shall continue this. propose that we shall continue this service to our people. Newark Speech September 17 1028.

Cooperation Promised

I have already stated the position of the Republican Party in positive of the Republican Party in positive support of free collective bargaining. I have stated that it is necessary to impose restrictions on the excessive use of injunctions. It is my desire and the desire of every good citizen to ameliorate the cause of industrial conflict, to build toward that true cooperation which must be the foundation of company action for the dation of common action for the common welfare. The first requisite to less conflict is full employment. By full employment we are steadily reducing conflict and loss.

Newark Speech. September 27, 1928

One of the oldest and perhaps the noblest of human aspirations has been the abolition of poverty. By poverty I mean the grinding of un-dernourishment, cold, and ignorance and fear of old age of those who have the will to work. We in America today are nearer to the final tri-umph over poverty than ever before in the history of any land. The poorin the history of any land. The poor-house is vanishing from among us. We have not yet reached the goal but given a chance to go forward with the policies of the last eight years, and we shall soon with the help of God be in sight of the day when poverty will be banished from this nation. There is no guarantee against poverty equal to a job for every man. That is the primary purpose of the economic policies we advocate.

Having earned my living with my own hands, I can not have other than the greatest sympathy with the aspirations of those who toil. It has been my good fortune during the past 12 years to have received the co-operation of Labor in many direc-tions and in the promotion of many public purposes.

Acceptance Speech, August 11, 1993.

Avoid Disaster

At such a time as this a change in national policies involves not — as some may lightly think — only a choice between different roads by either of which we may go forward, but a question also as to whether we may not be taking the wrong year. may not be taking the wrong road and moving backward. The measure of our national prosperity, of our stability, of our hope of future pro-gress at this time is the measure of what we may risk through a change in present policies. More than once in our national history a change in policies in a time of advancement has been quickly followed by a turn. toward disaster.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

COMING EVENTS

Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands

Members of the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands are anticipating a most delightful day tomorrow—Saturday, the 20th—in a motor trip along the beautiful shore through autumn foliage to Crow Point, Hingham, where one of their numbers, Mrs. Herbert W. Drew, opens her summer home for a Luncheon at 12 o'clock. They meet at the Highlands square at 11 o'clock for the start. The program of the meeting will be in the hands of the secretary, Mrs. William E. Moore, who will take up Acts I and II of Antony and Cleopatra, for the consideration and entertainment of these enthusiastic students of Shakespeare's works.

Christian Era Study Club

Mrs. Ernest F. Drew has invited the Christian Era Study Club to meet at her home, 324 Central street, on Monday afternoon, October 22nd, at 3 o'clock. Two of the members will have papers at this time; Mrs. Clarence Hosmer will take for her topic, "William Blake," and Mrs. Alfred Billings has a contemporary author and poet—"William Wordsworth." A short business session will precede the program.

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

The C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands continues their interesting delving into the topic of Psychology for their next meeting on the afternoon of Monday, October 22nd. Mrs. Earle Tinkham will give to her audience a program along these lines, and Miss Harriet M. Ward graciously opens her home at 1080 Walnut street for the gathering.

Monday Club of Newton Highlands

James Whitcomb Riley, the inimit James Whitcomb Riley, the inimit able poet, with all his charm, pathos and quaintness, will visit the members of the Monday Club of Newton Highlands through the mediumship of Mrs. Edwin E. S. Birtwell and Mrs. H. E. Williams on Monday afternoon, the 22nd, at the home of Mrs. A. H. Armstrong, of 15 Bradford road, where the business meeting proceding will open business meeting preceding will oper at 2:30 o'clock.

Waban Woman's Club

The Waban Woman's Club is giving its annual philanthropic fund Bridg Paryt on the afternoon of Octobe 22nd at 2 o'clock at the Neighborhood Club House. This is an opportunity to meet the friends and neighbors tha to meet the friends and neighbors that one has not seen since early summer and also to swell the fund for the Club's philanthropies and is an excellent bit of sociability before the formal opening of the Club year in its first meeting which does not occur until November 5th. The Girl Scouts will sell candy as usual.

West Newton Women's Educationa Club

The West Newton Women's Educational Club has a most busy and exciting week ahead of them. On Monday comes the meeting of the Travel Class, under the leadership of Mrs. Louie A. Bacon, at 2:39 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Frederick E. Waring, of 29 Davis avenue. Joint hostess with Mrs. Waring for making enjoyable the afternoon of the 22nd is Mrs. Arthur M. Teulon. Continuing their study of the Great Rivers of the World, Mrs. Charles E. Quin will give a paper on "The Thames and Rivers of England," and Mrs. William A. Richardson will describe the "McKenzie River."

Two days later comes the great event of the Club world, in the elaborate and beautiful Pageant, the Holy Grail, which the Club is putting on at the Newton High School Auditorium in two performances. Work for this has been going forward all summer, and the charm and beauty of this spectacle, tableaux of the pictures of Edwin A. Abbey's at the Boston Public Library, are sure to appeal to all who love the artistic and spiritual, with their color and satisfaction. Maude Nichols Lyons, who has written the pageant and arranged the costuming, has accomplished a presentation

If any endorsement of such an obviously worthwhile production were needed, one has only to know of letters of such endorsement from such outstanding figures in the civic, Club and moral circles as Mayor and Mrs. Edwin O. Childs, Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, Mrs. J. Porter Russell, Reverend and Mrs. Chester Drummond, and through in Club life who are lending their dramatic talent are Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., as Sir Launcelot; Mrs. Wilson Bartlett as Maidens; Mrs. David Bartlett as Maidens; Mrs. David Bartlett as Maidens; Mrs. David Candlesticks; Mrs. John Alden as ting Arthur; Mrs. Sidney B. Sargent, as Reeper of the Gate; Mrs. Bender H. Jackson, as a Knight; Mrs. Wilson Dort, as Spirit of Joseph; Mrs. B. Howard Lester, as High Priest; and Mrs. Gilbert Jones, as a Bishop.

And after the close of this affair—in triumph we know—there comes the next regular meeting of the Club, at 2:30 o'clock, at the Unitarian Parish House, West Newton. Following the business meeting, Mrs. Willard Dana Woodbury will speak, her topic being "Our Coming Election." Mrs. Bradley H. Pattison, Soloist, of Wellesley Hills, will sing, accompanied by Mrs. Cora Ward Ryan, of Wellesley. Tea will be served, the Volunteer toommittee acting as hostesses.

Newton Federation

The first Executive Board meeting of the Newton Federation will be held on Tuesday afternoon, the 23rd, in the Library of the Technical High School, Walnut street, Newtonville, at 2:30 o'clock, with the president, Mrs. J. Porter Russell presiding. Following the Board Meeting, at 3 o'clock, there will be a special meeting under the auspices of the Public Health Committee, Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, chairman, open to all Clubwomen, parents of school children, and the public generally. There will be two speakers: Dr. Henry B. Elkind, M.D., Medical Director of the Massachusetts Society for Mental Hygiene, will speak on "What Mental Hygiene Means to the Community." Twenty minutes will be given to Dr. Elkind's presentation of the subject, after which he will be glad to answer any questions. This question period is sure to be most valuable and possibly entertaining—an opportunity that Clubwomen welcome. Following this address, Mr. E. Ewing Wilson, Director of Physical Education for the Newton Schools, will give a twenty-minute talk, telling of his work in Newton, and he, too, will answer any questions which parents or others may desire to put to him relative to physical education of Newton's school children. The first Executive Board meeting of the secretary of the Wakeheld I.

M. C. A., will tell of her "Experiences with Boys in Porto Rico and Other Countries." There will be a musical program under the direction of Mrs. Robert Chapin.

The attention of all members and of all Newton residents who are friends to this worthwhile organization and desire to help in their splendid work for the welfare and pleasure of boys is called to the Rummage Sale planned for October 26th and 27th at Newton corner. Donations of clothing, shoes, books, furniture, and all manner of useful articles are asked, and these may be sent direct to the Y. M. C. A. building, or if generous donors will telephone to N. N. 0086, Mrs. George Defren will be most glad to call for contributions. In helping to make this Sale a success financially Newton residents are giving toward funds that will be used for a splendid Newton cause.

Newton Community Club

Thursday, October 25th, sees for the fortunate members of the Newton Community Club that always most appealing of programs, a Fashion Show. To see the new frocks for all occasions, to view color schemes, and to be told just why such combinations are correct, and to view fellow members parading about in this modish fashion world, has a charm that is undeniable and perfectly justifiable.

that should be seen by every dweller in Newfon. A background of singers, with special soloists, will add immeasurably to the attractiveness of gorgeous costume coloring, and spectacular settings. A matinee at 3 p. m. will give opportunity especially to students whose tickets may be obtained for the surprisingly low cost of 50 cents. Adults who would be unable to attend the evening performance may go to the matinee at a cost of 75 cents a ticket. In the evening, which is sure to call forth a large audience, appreciative of such an undertaking, the price of tickets is $1.00.

The first activity of one such group, of Hunnewell Hill members, is to be in the form of a modern Boston Tea Party on Friday October 26th, at 2:30 p. m. at the Salada Tea Company, 155 Berkeley street, Boston.

The company is making no charge for its hospitality and is glad to help the Club's Philanthropy Fund.

There will be a short talk on the fascinating subject of the tea industry, followed by a personally conducted tour of the plant, with plenty of time to enjoy the Oriental Art collection, which is one rich in valuable bronzes, carved ivories, unusual rugs and authentic china antiques. Tea will be served during the visit which lasts until 4:30 p. m. The charge is 50 cents and members are at liberty to bring guests. They should notify Mrs. Frederick E. Harwood or Mrs. LeRoy P. ONE THING AND ANOTHER

There is just a touch of pathos in the passing of this year's garden. O. I know there will be another one next year and that no doubt it will be larger and more beautiful. Yet a house garden has a part in people's lives just as much as some circumstance of vital importance. I know that some care nothing for plants or flowers. Either the wife does not want the responsibility or feels that the presence of potential may be the husband has no use for flowers. Some homes that I remember as a boy were inviting in the extreme for the very fact that there were potent plants on the window stills in winter and a rare collection summer. An old gentleman once told me that if ever I wandered over a country road and wanted a drink of water to stop at the house where there were plants in the windows. "They are real home folks there." he said, and they'll be good to travelers." How often have I thought of those working things there that I haven't set sill clinished plants.

As a boy I can remember my grand they's garden. There were growing things there that I haven't. It may be that there is still clinished plants.

As a boy I can remember my grand indivisioned plants.

As an amateur pedestrian I have had considerable experience with the sidewalks of Newton. I think I could almost write a song, "North side, South side," etc., but it would be scorned as an imitation and some people might be mean enough to say that I was improperly using an otherwise unbiased column of the Graphic to boost a certain candidate for the Presidency of the United States.

There are many who have followed my footsteps or whose footsteps I have followed and I am sure they are going to agree with me as I now attempt to set forth my experience, or at least that phase of it which has caused me to think so much in terms of concrete.

Our sidewalks are as good as in any city I have observed and I dare.

or at least that phase of it which has caused me to think so much in terms of concrete.

Our sidewalks are as good as in any city I have observed and I dare say if the truth were known they are a whole lot better. The point is not a comparison but merely a statement of conditions that now confront those of us who like to walk as well as those who do not like to walk but are obliged to. All use their feet and the question of willingness does not enter the picture.

As proud as we may be of our Newton sidewalks and as popular as they are with bleyele riders you will have to admit that some of them have been patched and that because of that fact the surface has become irregular or swollen. These uprisings create a sort of hillock and unless one is familiar with that particular stretch of concrete or slow in one's gait—unless, I say you are aware of such things you are apt to stumble. In the vicinity of my home a part of the sidewalk at the base of a big tree has been repaired but with an upward effect. The sidewalk rises in a vain attempt to meet the tree half-way. If it is evening and I am hurrying home to dinner I tread bravely along in the darkness only to find myself abruptly ascending and then quite as abruptly descending. It produces a sort of stagger in one's gait which makes one open to grave suspicion. Until we get a lot of new sidewalks in Newton I shall ever be cautious and watch my step.

of the edge off.

Don't let anybody fool you into thinking that listening-in is as good as the real show. The politicians may strive to do their best in the studio but their real stuff is done on the platform in front of the dear people.

but their real stuff is done on the platform in front of the dear people.

The fact that the tax on tickets to amusements has been removed leads some of us to think more often of going to the theatre. However, the habit, I observe, is not as strong in some people as it was some time ago for the reason that prices for the best shows remain almost prohibitive. Frequently you hear the subject discussed. Somebody will remark that he attended such and such a performance and was surprised to see such a small audience. Then somebody else will retort, "The prices are too high for such shows. The movies are good enough for us."

But here am I departing from the original purpose of this article. I started out with a certain thought almost switched myself on a side track. Let us get back to a first class theatre, seated comfortably and happily waiting for the curtain to go up. Unless it is an opera or a musical comedy we wonder where the orchestra we wonder why it is. This, I repeat, applies to the plays that are put on. A high-grade attraction, so called, will have either no orchestra at all or four or five players whose music, if that's what it is, can scarcely be heard above the chatter of the audience.

It isn't so very long ago that the theatre orchestra was something to think about and appreciate. They had reputations for playing the best. Their leaders were known as skilled musicians. The printed program contained the names of the selections. People were interested in the entre act music whether they understood the meaning of French words or not. It was a substantial part of the evening.

When theatre prices went up thear tree orchestras went down. Some districted in the content of the social centers of the Newtons, opened its hospitable doors for its package of the social centers of the Newtons o

I doubt if ever there was a political campaign in which there was so much cannot be considered the cannot be seen since. ABOUT TOWN By Edw. H. Powers The arrival of Herbert Hoover at Newtonville on Monday occasioned, perhaps, the largest gathering that village centre has ever witnessed was evidenced when the special train arrived at the station. One coach on it was reserved for occupancy by a score of reporters and camera-men who had accompanied Mr. Hoover from Washington.

As soon as the train had stopped, Gov. Fuller, Mrs. Fuller, Mayor Childs and a few members of the reception committee boarded the palatial Pensylvania Railroad car used by the distinguished visitor to extend greetings to him and his wife. Mr. and Mrs. Hoover then alighted from the car and their feet had no sooner touched the ground when they received a series of "commands" from the newspaper camera men to pose. They humbly obeyed. A Presidential candidate and his wife have much less privacy than goldfish in a store-window aquarium. Mr. Hoover appeared in surprisingly good condition for a man who has been under such a strain as he has experienced during recent months, but Mrs. Hoover appeared pale and somewhat fatigued looking. As she was about to be "snapped" by the photographers, a tiny miss presented her with a large bouquet of Talisman roses—gorgeous blooms which seemed to reproduce all the beautiful red and yellow tints of maple leaves in autumn.

Among the privileged few who were introduced to Mr. and Mrs. Hoover after they had alighted from the train was Comrade Emerson H. Stoddard of the "G. A. R." who resides on Austin street, Newtonville. Comrade Stoddard is one of the few remaining veterans of the Civil War in Newton whose step is still sprightly. Slender and alert he looks, with his white chin whisker, like the familiar depiction of "Uncle Sam." It was a big day for Comrade Stoddard. After being introduced to Mr. and Mrs. Hoover and aller he looks, with his white chin whisker, like the familiar depiction of "Comrade Stoddard. After being introduced to Mr. and Mrs. Hoover he followed them to the automobile reserved for them and Gov. Fuller, and, as the shouts of the multitude lulled somewhat, he suggested to Louis K. Liggett who was standing by him, 'Let us give three cheers for Mr. Hoover.' Mr. Liggett agreed th The arrival of Herbert Hoover at Newtonville on Monday occasioned, perhaps, the largest gathering that village centre has ever witnessed. Thousands of persons, large and small, young and old came afoot and in automobiles to catch a glimpse of the man who may be the next President of this big country. All the streets in the vicinity of Newtonville square were lined with solidly parked cars and spectators were grouped in masses around the railroad station and along Washington street. That thoroughfare between Newtonville and Newton Corner was an avenue of automobiles, and Nonantum Square was completely filled with cars and people as the Republican standard bearer, his wife and Gov. Fuller passed through. A large delegation of Newton police headed by Chief Burke and Lieut. Seaver, and a detachment of State Constabulary held the crowds in check and provided an escort for the distinguished visitors.

To oldtimers the scene around the railway station at Newtonville must have been reminiscent of that day over 40 years ago when James G. Blaine delivered a speech in the depot yard at Newton and proved his ready wit when the stand from which he was speaking started to collapse by saying—"The Republican platform still stands."

The special train carrying Mr. Hoover and his party was scheduled to arrive in Newtonville at 11:15 Monday morning. It was on time. In fact, it was even a couple of minutes ahead of time. John Hammell, an old Newton boy, superintendent of the Springfield-Boston division of the Boston & Albany was personally in charge of the train and the usual efficiency of that railroad prevailed.

The committee in charge of arrangements wisely allowed but a comparatively few persons on the railroad platform, apart from a couple of dozens of newspaper reporters and camera men. It would have been impossible, of course, to keep these gentry away from the front row. In fact, during a political campaign they are quite desirable to have around. This

As the automobile procession accompanying Mr. Hoover travelled down Washington street towards New ton Corner, one of the cars it passed by was a collegiate flivver containing several colored youths from West Newton. On the flivver was a cloth sign bearing this inscription—"The Solid South, for Al Smith."

Some youth, apparently an ardent Hoover advocate, pulled a wise stunt Monday morning. In the windows of a vacant store on Washington street were some posters bearing the likeness of Gov. Smith. The youth obtained the key to another vacant store alongside that containing the Smith posters on the pretense that he desired to inspect it with the probability of renting it. He thus obtained access to the store and in its windows placed Hoover posters.

Hundreds of children from the schools in Newton and Newtonville were allowed to leave their schools to see Hoover. Even the tots in the kindergarten at the Underwood School were escorted by their teachers to get a glimpse of the candidate. This action resulted after former alderman Henry Lloyd had requested Mayor Childs to permit the children to have this privilege. Mayor Childs informed Mr. Lloyd that such a concession must come from the school authorities, whereupon Mr. Lloyd got in touch with Supt. Wheeler, As a result, Mr. Wheeler gave the principals of the schools in Newton and Newtonville permission to exercise their judgment in granting the pupils a recess to see Hoover.

Two members of the sales force of the Newton Garage & Auto Company led the field in the sales contest for September among the representatives of the STUDEBAKER cars in Greater Boston. James S. Donahue won first prize and Cheney Holton won second prize. The staff with headquarters in the salesroom of the local STUDEBAKER agency at Washington and Hovey streets is hustling.

Bobby Jones is for Smith. Helen Wills is for Hoover. Gene Tunney is for Smith. Charles Lindbergh is for Hoover. Neither side has yet tried the blindfold test in the publicity propaganda.

The vacancy in the Board of Assessors brings to mind the fact that the Assessors Department of Newton has a valuable employee in the person of Miss Sarah G. Harley. For years she has rendered faithful service, has seen assessors come and go, and has been acquiring a fund of knowledge regarding matters pertaining to assessing in Newton. The salary received by Miss Harley is, in the only of the writer, not commensu-opinion of the writer, not commensuary received by Miss Harley is, in the opinion of the writer, not commensurate with her worth to the city. It is considerably less than those received by other employees of Newton whose years of service have been much fewer and whose knowledge of their particular work is certainly not superior to that of Miss Harley in her special field.

Newton Central Council Meets To Consider The Problems Of Youth

Interesting Survey of the Use of Leisure Time Studied By Representatives of Local Organizations

The meeting of the Newton Central Council held last Wednesday evening, October 17, at the West Newton Memorial Library, brought together representatives of many geographical sections of Newton and of many agencies which are trying to help solve the problems of youth. No social work can be real social work without a perspective of the whole. "You in your small corner and I in mine" is not the ideal for community work. A good central lighting system is needed, which will bring us all out of our corners, and let us see what is being done in other corners. Then perhaps we shall find many things being done separately which ought to be done together.

A demonstration of good team work was given by the ensemble playing of the boys' violin quartette of the All-Newton Music School. The first violins were Frank Balstone and Raymond Blair, the second violins, Donald Bowen and Edward Buswell, accompanied by Miss Theresa Caruso. The quartette gave a fine rendering of the minuet from Handel's opera of Berenice, and Gaillarde by Thomas Orne.

ing organizations or positions were represented:

The American Legion, Newton Centre Improvement Association, Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, Newton Free Library, Rotary Club, Newton William of Women's Club, Newton William of Newton Men's Club, and the Mayor of Newton: the Board of Health, Director of Health and Physical Education in the Newton Schools, Newton District Nursing Association, Newton Hospital, Medical Club, Newton Welfare Bureau Special Health Committee, Playgrounds, Red Cross, and School Department: the All-Newton Music School, Supervisor of Americanization, Boy and Girl

Presidents were asked to their presence by standing, the result being an excellent showing.

Mrs. Palmer then requested those present to open the pamphlets which had been previously distributed. These were copies of "The Boys and Girls of Newton, A Study of the Use of Their Leisure Time," which is the survey made under the auspices of the Newton Central Council of the youthful club life and recreational facilities of Newton. Many significant facts were brought out in connection with the tables and charts, and it was demonstrated that further study of the survey would shed light on other situations which concern the problems of youth. Thirty-four per cent of the boys of Newtonville, for instance, were at the time of the survey enrolled in clubs, while only 4% of those in Newton Lower Falls and 10% in Newton Upper Falls were were no boys' clubs.

The sub-commitee on transportation reported favorably on the plan to change the route of the special school buses so that congestion will be relieved on Walnut street in front of the high school. The buses will go via Lowell avenue to Otis to Walnut street, or via Lowell avenue and Elm road as far as Kimball terrace. On the advice of City Solicitor Bartlett, the suggestion of Police Chief Burke that the buses use Elm road alongside the high schools to unload, was turned down.

The committee voted, on the suggestion of Buildings Commissioner Chadwick, to recommend that the new school at Newtonville be named the Cabot School because of its location near Cabot Park. City Officials What Is Needed

Because of the big increase in registration here in Newton which brought the total almost up to 30,000, preparations are being made to handle the huge army of men and women who will crowd the polling places in this city on election day, Nov. 6. It is being suggested that the women voters, except those employed other than at their own homes, refrain from voting until after 9:30 a. m. on that day in order to leave the polling booths available for the thousands of men voters who must cast their ballots early. In anticipation of the many aged and infirm persons who will come to the polls on election day, City Clerk Grant, with the approval of the Mayor and the Aldermen, has made arrangements to rent for use as polling places the store at 285 Walnut street, Newtonville, the Newton Club at 345 Walnut street, Newtonville, the Newton Club at 345 Walnut street, Newtonville, correctly of Ward 2; the store at 404 Washington street, Newtonville, or Precinct 1 of Ward 2; the store at 404 Washington street, Newtonville of Precinct 1 of Ward 2; the store at 404 Washington street, Newtonville be the polling place for Precinct 1 of Ward 2; the Newton Club will be the polling place for Precinct 2 of Ward 1. HARD TASK TO BEAT BEVERLY

Newton High had a hard time beating Beverly last Saturday on the latter's field but finally succeeded in bringing home the bacon by a 7 to 6 score. Coach Sullivan started the second string playary in order to give ond string players in order to give the first team a much deserved rest aft er their strenuous battle of the week before with Everett and another hard game in prospect for tomorrow. But the second string failed to show a the second string failed to show a great deal and towards the end of the first quarter, with the ball well in their own territory, the Newton regulars went into the game. With the home team driving ahead and Newton not having had an opportunity to get loosened up properly, Beverly crossed the last white mark early in the second period. From then on it was a merry battle, with Newton striving to score and Beverly stopping them time after time. Midway of the third session a long pass from Gilligan to Duane placed the ball on the one-yard line. Pescosolido went over to knot the count. Gilligan attempted the try for point but Beverly was offside on the play and for the fourth time this year the officials awarded Newton the point after touchdown. Beverly's overanxiety on this play cost them a tie game as Newton failed to score again. Even at that Beverly would have tallied but for a hard driving tackle by Frank Perry, Newton quarrerback, that put both Perry and the Beverly and great deal and towards the end of th lied but for a hard driving tackle by Frank Perry, Newton quarterback, that put both Perry and the Beverly ball carrier out for the count. The tackle sent the Beverly back outside the playing field after he had taken a pass from his quarterback near the sideline and but for Perry with a clear field ahead.

First Period

First Period

Newton kicked off to Beverly's 33-yard line, where the ball was fumbled but recovered. Three plays through tackle netted Beverly a first down on the 45-yard mark. An offside penalty against the home team forced them to kick. Gilligan caught the punt on his 15-yard line and ran it back eleven yards. With the aid of an offside penalty against Beverly Newton made a first down in three plays. Beverly held and a pass from Gilligan to Shellman was incomplete, forcing Gilligan to kick to Beverly's 40-yard line. The punt was fumbled and Acchione recovered for Newton. Beverly held and took the ball on downs on their own 35-yard line. The Patten coached out-fit reeled off three first downs to the 30-yard line and the Newton regulars went in, to stop the advance. A holding penalty set them back to the 15-yard line as the period ended.

Second Period

Second Period

Robblee and Pescosolido stopped the Beverly backs on two plays, but an offside penalty against Newton and two gains of three yards each by Pinciaro made it first down on the three-yard line. Three plays gained two yards and on fourth down Mayberry went over for the score. Gardner went over for the score. Gardner blocked the try for goal and Beverly was leading 6 to 0. Beverly picked off to Duane, who ran the ball back was reading o to 0. Beerly picked off to Duane, who ran the ball back to the 30-yard stripe before being brought down. Despite the aid of a five-yard offside penalty against Beverly Newton could not gain and Duane kicked to the Beverly 25-yard mark. Gardner stopped the first play dead and Chamberlain held Mayberry to a yard gain. Robblee blocked Beverly's punt and recovered for Newton 20 yards from the goal. A bad pass from the centre sailed over Pescosolido's head and was recovered by him at midfield. Duane immediately kicked to Beverly's 20-yard line and a clipping penalty set them back to their five-yard mark. Beverly kicked out of danger to Newton's side of midfield. Pescosolido made three yards and then Duane tossed a long pass which Test Reverly and and then Duane tossed a long pass which Tosi, Beverly end, intercepted n his 25-yard mark. Two plays failed to gain and Bev erly kicked to Perry on his 45-yard line. The Beverly ends were in on Perry and one of them tackled him before he caught the ball to bring his erore he caught the ban to bring his eam a 15-yard penalty. Newton took oo much time out and drew a five-ard setback. Furden could not find hole, but Duane let loose a long ass to Payne for a gain of 20 yards s the half ended.

Third Period

Third Period
Harrington kicked off for Newton to Beverly's 39-yard stripe. Harrington and Scheinfain stopped the Beverly attack with a small gain and Beverly attack with a small gain and Beverly kicked. Duane ripped off 12 yards through tackle for a first down. Assas was incompleted and Perry made but a yard, so Duane kicked. The ball rolled over the goal and Beverly put it in play on their 29-yard line. A Newton lineman recovered a Beverly fumble to place Newton in position to score. Duane lay in wait for a pass near the sideline and although Beverly saw him his strategy worked. Gilly saw him his strategy worked. Gil ligan tossed him a long pass which Duane leaped into the air for, to evade the Beverly player's attempt to ground it. He was brought down on the one yard line. Pescosolido went over through tackle. Gilligan's try at the yard line. Pescosolido went over through tackle. Gilligan's try at the point was blocked but Beverly was offside on the play and Newton was awarded the point. Newton kicked off to Beverly and a few minutes later took the ball on downs on Beverly's 42-yard line. Gilligan kicked, Beverly fumbled and Chamberlain recovered for Newton on the 17-yard line. Perry gained three yards, Gilligan five, and Duane three more for a first down on the six-yard line.

Fourth Period

Fourth Period Gilligan picked up a yard but Pessosolido was forced outside for a loss cosolido was forced outside for a loss chology in the Boston University Colon an end run. Neither Duane nor Pescosolido could cross the goal line and Beverly took the ball on downs. The Beverly kicker fumbled the pass from centre but Newton was offside and there was no safety. Once again Beverly kicked but again Newton was Beverly kicked but again Newton was a Newton was lossed and baseball teams last season.

NEWTON READY FOR STIFF TEST

The last Saturday in October usually finds the school and college football teams meeting their first real test of the season. The earlier games, while many are important, are more or less marked by frequent offside penalties due to poor cohesion, incompleted forward passes because of lack of timing of the ball, and other minor faults. But with the final game of the month the fundamentals of the game are not stressed as much as othgame are not stressed as much as other features. Newton has had its share of fumbles, penalties and the like and is now ready for the beginning of the is now ready for the beginning of the most strenuous part of the season. Somerville, with one of the best teams it has had in years, comes to Claffin Field tomorrow to give the orange and black a real test. Following Somerville Newton goes to Medford, Waltham and Brookline and meets Rindge at Claffin Field the Saturday between the Medford and Waltham contests. Newton showed considerable promise in its opening game with Belmont. The next week Cambridge Latin gave it considerable opposition in a ragged but clean game. Against Everett fumbles in the backfield hurt a great deal while last Saturday Beverly put up a strong fight in a game marked by while last Sautrday beerly put up a strong fight in a game marked by many penalties. This week Coach Sullivan has been ironing out the rough spots and working the team hard in preparation for Somerville which is anxious to pin a defeat on the Garden Cities. anxious to pin a defeat on the Garden City outfit. In recent years the closest the Dickerman outfit has come to winning was in 1926 on Claffin Field with the final score 7 to 7. Last year Newton won 14 to 0. While Somerville has by far the heavier aggregation they will not go on the field tomorrow a lop-sided favorite. In their four games this season Somerville has won three and lost two. It started out on high by swamping Chelsea 25 to 0 and shutting out Salem 13 to 0 in one of the early season upsets. The to 0 and shutting out Salem 13 to 0 in one of the early season upsets. The next week the red and blue were the victims of an upset when Waltham led at the final whistle by a 6 to 0 margin. Medford further dismissed Somerville's little aspirations by taking the long end of a 19 to 7 count. Last Saturday Somerville opened its Suburban league season by defeating the Cantabs 6 to 2. Should Somerville come through with a win tomorrow it.

Moore of Maugus had high single with 246. In the matches between the Newton Club and the Waban Neighborhood club at the former's alleys the Newton Club won three out of four in the Boston Pin event while Waban turned the tables by a similar count in the bottle pin match. Soccer is going much stronger than ever this year with some very good team play among the older boys. In the Junior League the teams show that they have had help but the excitement of the game failed to hold their places.

Interest in West Newton is not as good as in the other districts.

The strongest playgrounds, in number of teams, are at Burr and Newton Centre where they have at least five teams and are willing to meet all comers. Highlands, Waban and Horace Mann have at least three each. ace Mann have at least three each. While most of the others have one

While most of the others have one well organized team and a second not quite so good. The play of the boys at Bigelow, Center, Angier and Horace Mann is well organized and shows the efforts of the director last year.

Mr. Leighton is very much pleased with what his boys are doing, especially at Lower Falls. The teams at Upper Falls are not certain in spite of Mahoney's efforts as the movies still have a call on Tuesday and Thursday.

PALS TO MEET STRONG TEAMS

The Newton Pals under the able coaching of George "Dotty" Wright annexed their fourth consecutive vic tory last Sunday at Cabot Park by defeating the Auburn A. A. of Cambridge. Although outweighed about twenty pounds the Pals managed to upset the visiting team's record of no defeats in three seasons to the tune of 27 to 0. The Pals have tune of 27 to 0. The Pals have strengthened considerably this season tune of 27 to 0. The Pals have strengthened considerably this season but their main strength lies in the fact that they have two completeams, one equally as good as the other. Cabot Park is a favorite spot each Sunday afternoon for the football lovers of not just Newton alone, but the neighboring cities and towns as well because half of the Pals' squad is made up of players from West Newton, Auburndale, Waltham and Waterton, Auburndale, Waltham and Watertown, and many of the fans in these places come down to watch the home talent in action. The star of last Sunday's game was George Fournier of Watertown, his best contribution being a beautiful 60-yard run through the whole opposing team, which ended behind the goal line. He also contributed three pretty drop kicks for points after touchdowns and outpunted the visiting team, all afternoon.

tributed three pretty drop kicks for points after touchdowns and outpunted the visiting team all afternoon. Other stars for the Pals were the Brophy brothers from Auburndale, Waxy Littlefield, Jimmy Geegan, Johnny Lyman and the Coleman brothers from Waltham.

The Pals will have to work hard to keep their slate clean for their next three games are against the Atlantic A. A., St. Peter's of Dorchester and the Trojans of South Boston. This Sunday the Pals play the Atlantic T. T. Not much is know about the visiting team except that they will be considerably heavier than the Newton club, but the Pals are hoping to offset this by the same speed which they displayed against a heavier club last Sunday.

Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., spoke for the Newton Center Improvement Associa-tion. She said she was revealing a secret, no longer a secret after this evening, when she announced that the Association had obtained an option Association had obtained an option on land belonging to the Theological Institution, adjacent to the Bowen School. At present the land used for a playground by the young people of Thompsonville and the Bowen School is not owned but only lent to the city. No permanent improvement or equipment is practicable until the city owns the land. Mrs. Spear said she had the plans of this land in her hand and that the Association hoped to persuade the city to purchase it.

Newton Upper Falls was represented by Mrs. Ernest Cobb, who suggested a plan of "After Supper Clubs." If a leader could be found and a place to meet it was planned to start such clubs.

Miss Riley, Visiting Teacher for the High School, also Adviser for the Freshman and Sophomore classes, spoke in regard to the truancy problem of the schools; and Mrs. Willman, Probation Officer, of the difficulty in finding wholesome recreation for those who have made a wrong start.

Mrs. Wellman said that Newton Mis. Weithan and Highlands, Newton Lower Falls, and Newton Upper Falls should provide something for boys and girls to do in the evening. Twombly House used

Miss Leathers reported the Y. W. Yesterday Patrolman Goddard arrested John Bucchieri of 9 Decatur street, West Newton, on the charge of driving an uninsured automobile and driving after his registration had been revoked.

Thomas Kinchla of 92 Hawthorn street was notified by the police to restrain his dog on complaint made by Frank Wilson of Wallace street. Somerville. Dr. Boutelle was notified to inspect the animal.

A complaint was made to the police that boys were observed last Thursday of lost week a group of boys were observed taking bottles from barrels on Pearl street and breaking them on the road. On Thursday of last week a group of boys were observed taking bottles from ash barrels on Watertown street and breaking them in the highway near the Horace Mann School.

Opposite the New Newton Hospital The School Centers cannot develop their program as they feel it should be developed because facilities are lacking for big clubs—and for dancing, athletics and dramatics which attract the older boys and girls. There are sections of Newton besides, like Thompsonville, and the Lower and Upper Falls, where there are no vasilable meeting places at all. What is Newton going to do about it?

The following school officers were recently elected:
School Community President, Stuart De Bard; School Community Secretary, Doris Linscott; Boys' Vice President, James McAdams; Girls' Vice President, Helen Ellis.
Ninth Grade Officers—President, Marian Willard; Secretary, Elizabeth Ellis; Treasurer, Robert Gwillim.

Eighth Grade Officers—President William Durbin; Secretary, Carol Han

Seventh Grade Officers—President, ohn Upham; Secretary, Helen

John Upham; Secretary, Helen Brandt.
The first movie entertainment in the school took place on October 18 before a large audience of pupils, parents and friends. A professional pianist rendered selections and Roger DeWitt and Nevin Brynning played on the saxophone and trumpet and Aaron Lockwood on his Orphonic Victrola.

On Tuesday, October 23, we received our first program in the "Studio to Schoolroom" series of broadcasts from Station WEEL, Boston. Since this first broadcast was on Current Events, Mr. Carr thought it worth while to have the entire school assemble at one o'clock equipped with pencils and notebooks. The speaker, Mr. Kidger of the Newton Senfor High School, who gave us the high lights in the presidential campaign, the significance of the Kellogg Peace Plan and the possibilities of world peace at the present time.

On Thursday the French students will listen in on a French lecture by Madame Dupree of Boston.

A moving picture entitled "The Season" made up this week's assembly program. On the screen we saw mind pictures of nature in all her moods, as she expresses herself in each season.

tics; Wednesday, Social Studies; Thursday, Science and Latin. F. A. Day is staging quite a lively political campaign of its own just at present. Whether the sight of Mr. Hoover on Oct. 15th aroused the political feeling or the anticipated sight of Mr. Smith inspired the imagination, is unknown. The fact remains, however, that political unrest prevails. Eighth grade leaders have formed parties and chosen candidates for class offices. The Independent party is holding a rally in the Assembly hall at 3:00 o'clock on Wednesday, Oct. 24. They are supporting the following candidates: President, Roger Maynard; Vice-President, Ralph Morrison; Secretary, Jean Scribner; Treasurer, Barbara Mildram. Opposed to this group are the Republicrats, who are backing the following; for President, Margaret Caswell; Vice-President, Walter McCarthy; Secretary, Margaret Watts; Treasurer, Barbara Phinney.

charge of the lights, told of the locations at Newton Corner where additional lights are needed.

Police Chief Burke told of the proposed traffic tower at Nonantum square and agreed with Mr. Earle that the need for more lights on the main traffic arteries is quite pressing. He told of the change in the traffic rules which forbids automobiles making right turns while the red light is displayed and he praised the Columbia type of light which has proved so efficient in Newton. He invited questions from those present. Some of the objections presented to him were directed at the practice of having the traffic signals at important street intersections being operated all night, the use of the entire frontage near the railroad property at Newton Corner by taxis, the hazards existing at the junction of Centre street and Centre avenue at Newton, and the parking of cars close to bridges.

Fire Chief Randlett told of the new fire station at Newton Corner and Representative Arthur W. Hollis stressed the need of more lights on Washington and other streets to afford protection to pedestrians. Jantes P. Gallagher spoke in a humorous vein.

Let's keep

MERICAN standards of living are the highest in the world—and steadily improving.

American wages are by far the highest in the world - and steadily advancing.

American workers have the shortest hours in the world—and they are steadily becoming less.

American homes have more conveniences, more comforts, and more luxuries than any other homes in the world.

Americans own more automobiles, wear better clothes, have more amusements and more plentiful food than the citizens of any other country in the world.

Hold Herbert Hoover on the Job!

"Real wages and standards of living of our labor have improved more during the past seven and a half years of Republican rule than during any similar period in the history of this or any other country"- says Herbert Hoover-and he knows-for, as Secretary of Commerce for Calvin Coolidge he more than any other individual directed the business policies which made it so!

Our National progress has been built upon time tested Republican policies—not untried and doubtful experiments. WHY CHANGE NOW

Republican tariff protection has increased the comfort and happiness of every American citizen-man and woman-housewife and clerk-worker and farmer-merchant and manufacturer.

Republican restricted immigration has protected American wage-earners from a flood of cheap labor that would lower wages and

Republican export policies have increased our foreign sales of American surplus industrial and agricultural products from $3,750,000,000 in 1922 to $4,840,000,000 in 1927—over a billion dollars increase—the means of livelihood for more than two million American families.

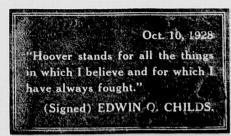

Why trade such proven benefits for a phantom glass of beer?

Under able management we can confidently expect these proved Republican policies to produce even greater prosperity in the future.

LET'S ELECT AS PRESIDENT AMERICA'S BEST BUSINESS ADMINISTRATOR -HERBERT HOOVER-AND KEEP OUR JOBS AND OUR PROSPERITY.

Prosperity didn't "just happen"

Every man has a right to ask of us whether the United States is a better place for him, his wife and his children to live in, because the Republican Party has conducted the government for nearly eight years. Every woman has a right to ask whether her life, her home, her man's job, her hopes, her happiness, will be better assured by the continuance of the Republican Party in power.

Higher Wages

. the average of real wages is higher today than ever before. And the arduous hours of labor have decreased. We can easily prove As a standard of comparison, let us take the purchasing power of wages in 1913 or before the war. In purchasing power we consider both the dollars and the cost of livfind that real wages at the height of the war inflation were about 30 per cent over 1913. Despite the great after-war slump they have risen until today they are over 50 per cent greater than before the war. Viewed in another way, while the cost of living today is about 60 points on the index above pre-war, wages are 127 above. Parallel with this increase in real wages the average hours of labor have steadily de-

High Standard of Living

Our workers with their average weekly wages can today buy two and often three times more bread and butter than any wage earner of Europe. At one time we demanded We have now gone far beyond that conception. Today we demand larger comfort and greater participation in life and leisure.

Most of all, I like to remember what this progress has meant to America's children. The portal of their opportunity has been ever widening. While our population has grown but 8 per cent we have increased by 11 per cent the number of children in our grade schools by of children in our grade schools, by 66 per cent the number in our high schools, and by 75 per cent the num-ber in our institutions of higher learning.

More Jobs and More Wages

On any calculation our exports have increased by over one billion dollars during the past seven years. This is an increase of 41 per cent since 1922 and an increase of 58 per cent over pre-war.

It is no accident which has brought about this unique situation in the United States. It is not chance that has brought this added employment for American workmen, and added markets for American farmers. Things like that don't and another million families earn their living in the manufacture of raw materials which we import in exchange for our exports. This increase in exports has brought a living to 500,000 families. This means more than statistics. It means higher standards of living-more jobs make more wages. Foreign trade is no artificial stimulant to employment. Its development is a vital contribu-tion to the welfare of the American workman and the American mer-chant and the American farmer. I propose that we shall continue this service to our people.

Newark Speech. September 17. 1928.

Cooperation Promised

I have already stated the position of the Republican Party in positive support of free collective bargaining. I have stated that it is necessary to impose restrictions on the excessive use of injunctions. It is my desire and the desire of every good citizen to ameliorate the cause of industrial conflict, to build toward that true cooperation which must be the foundation of common action for the common welfare. The first requisite to less conflict is full employment. By full employment we are steadily reducing conflict and loss.

Newark Speech. September 17, 1928

One of the oldest and perhaps the noblest of human aspirations has been the abolition of poverty. By poverty I mean the grinding of undernourishment, cold, and ignorance and fear of old age of those who have the will to work. We in American and the second of the final triangle of the second of the s ica today are nearer to the final triumph over poverty than ever before in the history of any land. The poorhouse is vanishing from among us. We have not yet reached the goal but given a chance to go forward with the policies of the last eight years, and we shall soon with the years, and we shall soon with the help of God be in sight of the day when poverty will be banished from this nation. There is no guarantee against poverty equal to a job for every man. That is the primary purpose of the economic policies we advocate.

Having earned my living with ny own hands, I can not have other than the greatest sympathy with the aspirations of those who toil. It has been my good fortune during the past 12 years to have received the co-operation of Labor in many direc-tions and in the promotion of many

At such a time as this a change in national policies involves not — as some may lightly think — only a choice between different roads by either of which we may go forward, but a question also as to whether we may not be taking the wrong year. may not be taking the wrong road and moving backward. The measure of our national prosperity, of our stability, of our hope of future pro-gress at this time is the measure of what we may risk through a change in present policies. More than once in our national history a change in olicies in a time of advancement has been quickly followed by a turn toward disaster.

Clubs' Tribute to Mrs. Mason

No Clubwoman in Newton ever needs to ask who is Mrs. Ella Mason. Thirty-three years ago, largely through the efforts of farsighted women of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, this city was persuaded to try the experiment of having in the police department a matron who could understand the viewpoint of women, their problems and misfortunes, and make easier the way of those who came within the searching investigation of their lives by the law. The West Newton Club agreed to pay the salary of such a woman for the investigation of their lives by the law. The West Newton Club agreed to pay the salary of such a woman for the first year, in order to prove to the authorities the usefulness and desirability of having such a position created in the employment of the municipality. There was no necessity of this, however, for the justification was so short a time in being evident that the city paid the expense. For thirty-three years, therefore—since the inception of the position—Mrs. Ella Mason has given loyal, faithful, splendid service in the role of police matron, and this statement alone proves beyond question not only the value of the idea of West Newton's wise women, but the fidelity and ability of the woman to whom that idea was entrusted. Is it any wonder, then, that no Clubwoman needs to ask who is Mrs. Ella Mason?

And is it any wonder, too, that all Clubwomen are today asking, and need to ask, why was not this woman given the official status of a member of the police department when she has in fact occupied that position beyond question or equivocation? For today they learn that through the technicality of someone's neglect and oversight this woman is being retired and oversight this woman is being retired and oversight this woman is being retired.

technicality of someone's neglect and oversight this woman is being retired not at half pay, as would be the case of every man in the police department, but on practically quarter pay—a sum of $25 a month, for her to live upon, and to support an invalid son in a California institution. There is no necessity to dwell upon the obvious injustice and neglect of such a matter. But the minds of the Clubwomen are dwelling logically and persistently upon the old adage of "where there is a will there is a way," and they know that in the vast gist of laws upon our statute books there must be some that can be called in to echnicality of someone's neglect an added interest will be the exhibition of some of these articles. In every city, town and hamlet of these great United States similar Needlework Guilds are daily steadily making the agreed-upon articles and placing them where there is necessity. The accumulated benefit from all these women, who busy as they are with a thousand other things, still find time to give generously of their hours and of materials is almost beyond the realization of the mind. It will be worthwhile, therefore, and rarely informative, to hear from the lips of such a woman as Mrs. Preston a description of the work of her organization.

Let it be understood, accordingly, that all who wish to hear Mrs. Presson are cordially invited to this open meeting.

Dr. Powers' Lectures the proper persons.

In proof whereof two valliant defenders have come to the rescue. One is quite naturally the Club that is sponsor for Mrs. Mason in our city—the West Newton Women's Educational Club in the petition which they are circulating for presentation to those in whose hands and hearts—we hope—lie the fate of this matter. That the West Newton Club will soon have the entire club world of Newton through its Federation—4,000 strong—asking pertinent—and possibly otherwise, through stress of feeling—questions, about laws relating to pensions in Massachusetts, and where our city stands in acceptance of those making our highways safe.

One of the most dangerous street intersections in Newton is that at lewett and Waban streets. On the property formerly known as the Jones state is a large hedge which has been allowed to grow so high that it completely hides the view of any autost approaching along Waban street lowards Jewett street. Many near accidents, as well as some collisions have occurred because of the blind corner there. A citizen who owns property on the opposite corner is in a constant state of worry because of the hazards to which his children have been subjected when automobiles were lriven onto his lawn in avoiding collisions with other cars at this intersection. The hedge at the corner of these two streets should be removed. So should hedges at other street corners which create traffic hazards. If the city authorities do not possess the right to compel the removal of such hedges, they should adopt measures to obtain this right.

cal activity. We hever thought that the youngsters who threw tomatoes and tomato cans at us had been coached to do so by older persons. Indulging in politics is a new experience for the ladies. Some of them are making this fact painfully apparent. We cite one instance. A woman of our acquaintance, because of economic conditions, has been forced to go out working for many years to add to the family income. One woman for whom she worked became very friendly with her. This woman is very auxious to see Herbert Hoover elected President. Recently she visited the home of the woman who had worked for her and asked the latter, "Who are you going to vote for?" Now, if this lady knew how to play the game of politics properly, she would have realized that the question she asked was impertinent. She would have understood that the Australian ballot was established in this country for the purpose of allowing persons to vote yearding to to the die. untry for the purpose of allowing rsons to vote according to the dic-

Grand Opening

WILLIAM C. QUINN, Manager

Approximately 23 years ago, the first Berry store was opened in Cambridge. Today, with the opening of our new store at 314-316 Washington Street, Newton Corner, there are nine Berry stores located within a radius of 15 miles of Boston, each the leading Furniture Store in these different communities—and the end is not yet in sight. Today—there are two other new stores in two other cities being built to be occupied by Berry's just as soon as completed—so that within the short period of twelve years—when our expansion and chain store plans were first put into effect—the Berry Stores have grown to be the largest furniture organization in New England.

There can be no question but what the trend of modern retailing is towards chain store operation. This is true in all lines—and there is no business to which chain store methods are more applicable than to the furniture business. Berry's was the pioneer—others have followed in a smaller way but our early start along these lines and the experience gained in these few years have placed us in the position of knowing—not guessing—so that today we operate on a scientific plan which brings home furnishings of the better quality to our customers at the same price paid for the inferior grades in smaller stores.

Our new store at Newton corner is established with this thought alone in mind— to give still better merchandise at still less cost to the consumer than any other furniture organization—no matter where located.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

It isn't difficult for even the youngest of my readers to recall the noisy drunk of a decade past. One can easily remember how it got on one's nerves; how you wondered how long the conductor was going to put up with it and whether the ordinary wellbehaved passenger was not getting a raw deal from the Elevated which made no attempt to keep boozers off its cars.

I have a vivid recollection of night work that compelled me to ride on owl cars. On some lines, particularly Saturday night, there was certain to be a brawl and at least two policemen were detailed to make the trip.
You don't see that now. You can ride on any line anywhere and there is no thought off fighting drunks.

Another matter I should mention and that would be abuse of horses received at the hands of drunken drivers. There are not as many horses now but still there are enough to be abused. In the days which some people would like to see restored in part a teamster would unmercifully lash his horses as they passed from Boston to Newton. He had stopped too long at a saloon in Brighton and was trying to make up for lost time by cruelly forcing the overloaded animals. A pretty picture for reproduction. A pretty picture for reproduc

It seems to me that if I were one of those public speakers whose duty it is to advise the voters against proposed nullification of the Volstead act I should use in my argument some local examples. After I had been challenged as to the failure of prohibition I should promptly ask my hecklers if they ever rode on the Boston Elevated. Doubtless they would retort with, "What has that to do with it?"

Then I ask them to recall conditions before the operation of the 18th amendment, still using the Elevated as example. I would go further and say, "As long as we have service that keeps us riding about twice as long as need be if the line were properly operated, what do you say about your fellow passengers? Are you satisfied to have peaceable and orderly folk in the car or would you like to go back 10 years and run the risk of finding a drunk in the seat beside you?"

I would call attention to the fact that for years the cars had posted warnings against obnoxious behavior and reminding the would-be offender that he would be suitably punished to the full extent of the law. I don't see such signs any more in the cars—their presence is not necessary.

Furthermore, I would ask my challengers whether they preferred to ride among quiet people or turn backward to those happy days when some individual or group was apt to burst into song or profanity or both at less than a moment's notice.

It isn't difficult for even the youngest of my readers to receil the noisy the can and not only make trouble to being called a mob. Yet they took of my readers to receil the noisy they can and not only make trouble to being called a mob. Yet they took of my readers to receil the noisy they can and not only make trouble to being called a mob. Yet they took of my readers to receil the noisy to provide a consider any oppose this light woever loculd never be persuaded to consider any change whatsoever.

One definition of the word "crowd" can might she would give the word "crowd" reads, "A large number of persons congregated or collected into a cl ing and making it generally disagreeable for themselves and their neighbors.

When some prominent person is to pass through the streets the people insist upon closing in as near as they can when if they stayed on the sidewalks all could have an unobstructed view. Mob psychology as it is sometimes called is frequently hard to understand. I assume that those who comprise a gallery at some unusually interesting golf match would object to being called a mob. Yet they, too, insist upon crowding as closely as they can and not only make trouble for the guards and the players but spoil their own chances and those of others for a clear and full view of all that is going on.

I suppose that excitement of the moment drives out of their heads the reason of quieter times. They are apt to be swayed by this or that mob spirit and the results are disorder and the like. Still, here is a human problem of the ages and nobody seems to offer a solution.

Possibly I am way behind the times but only recently have I been attracted by the new signs at the Boston & Albany stations. I must say that I am in favor of them for they present a neat appearance and should give the stranger a good impression—not only of the sign-painter's art but of the place the sign itself designates.

but of the place the sign itself designates.

All this leads one to think of the new style of signs for buildings, store, etc. Fashions in such things change, I suppose, or there would be no evidence of progress. There seems to be now a demand for raised letters and a sign is to be made attractive without appearing ornate. The old, dignified gold lettering on a background of black was popular for a long period. Now we have a light background with dark letters and these are raised. The idea, I assume, is to make the name stand-out.

It is always fascinating to watch a sign-painter at work. That is, of course, if one has time to stand by while a skilled craftsman is demonstrating his ability for the benefit of his customer. How much more ingenuity is applied than there used to be? Signs don't seem to be as flat and yet they are not offensive.

Billboards are quite another matter and whatever happens to them is of no particular interest to me as they

and whatever happens to them is of no particular interest to me as they are too vivid at best. I can sympa-thize with people who yearn to see them taken from the highways. tle to show for its endeavors it looks as if we might not expect much of anything.

But the store signs do not have the same standing. A man must sell his goods. By the way, maybe you've not heard the story that bears on this very matter.

It seems that a man who dealt in fish in a small town decided that his store should have a sign over the door. It was a belated thought with him for he had been selling fish for years and had enjoyed a good patronage. He was a prudent, thrifty soul and to save money undertook to do his own lettering. Thereupon he painted a sign, "Fresh Fish for Sale." Along came a friend to whom he showed the sign and asked his opinion. "You don't need the word 'fresh,'" said the friend, "all fish should be fresh anyway." The dealer decided to remove the word "fresh."

When the sign read "Fish for Sale" another friend happened along. "Too many words" was this friend's comment. "Just the word 'fish' will be in the country. Mr. touches not only on the subject of mail delivery but other matters. He says:

"Dear Mr. Bentley—In accord with your request regarding the increased (?) facilities of the Newton Postoffice under the new system, I offer the following statement.

"Malled two letters addressed to Newtonville in the Newton office on Saturday at 6 p. m. They were delivered at the address Monday on the afternoon delivery. If such a system is to prevail one must not be surprised that the people denand some sort of change.

"I also wish to compliment you on the story, but for your nerve in quoting it as a matter of recent occurrence. I told the same story thirty years ago and it was mouldy with age even then. But it may be new to the present generation. It's a pretty good story just the same.

"I enjoy your column, so do not get disheartened if you do get a knock once in a while. With greatings I am, Yours truly, Wilfred A. Wetherbee."

Such topics as Bible literature, Poetry, Philosophy, Literary Travel in England, and the Modern Novel and Drama will come in these groupings. RADIO. Newton Clubwomen will be interested to know that one of our well-known number, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, chairman of Conservation of Natural Resources for the State Federation, is to talk over the radio on Wednesdax, October 31st, at 10:30 o'clock, in the weekly broadcast from WNAC. "The Magic of Nature's Garden" is the title of her talk, which she is sure to make as attractive as the topic pictures it.

Mrs. Henry P. Ballard, Pianist, a member of the Music Department, is to give a group of solos at 10:40, followed by "The Lower Lights," a message from Mrs. Thomas G. Rees, Fourth District director.

CONSERVATION. And in the same news of the week for the Federation Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge once more proves her enterprise and energy, finding time for radio broadcast and for planning for a series of Department Conferences that should prove arresting to the attention of even busy Clubwomen. She inaugurates a new feature for her Department work in a trio of Open Meetings to be held the first Thursday of November, January and March, to which the public is cordially invited. These will be at State Federation Headquarters, 687 Boylston street, Boston, from 11:15 to 12 o'clock on the dates November 1st, January 3rd, and March 7th. On Thursday, November 1st, Dr. John B. May, State Ornithologist, will speak on "Out-of-doors in New England." At the later meetings the billboard situation and gardening will be discussed. The present plan is to have Prof. Thayer of Amherst College speak at the March meeting on some phase of Gardening, this being the most timely date for such an inspiring talk as he could give. western Community, Service in the community Service in the service

N. 9211 will be glad to tell those who have white elephants, or who want to paint a tray or otherwise dabble in color what Mrs. Caldwell will show her Classes can be done in the Furniture Painting line.

Then there is the Contract and Auction Bridge Class, with Mrs. Prescott Warren instructing. As to this they tell us that there is an inevitable question to come up this winter, namely, "do you play conract?", and if you don't but want to, and if you do, but want to take all the prizes, where you took one before, they tell us to telephone direct to Miss Marjorie Warren, B. And then with this quotation that has perhaps rather shuddery memories of High School days: "verbum aspientum sufficit," following promises of health, vigorous blood circulation, perfect oxidation, and relief from nervous debility, there are the Bowling Classes, Hiking, Horseback Riding, Keep Fit Classes, and Swimming. The leaders in the same order are so mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, Tel. N. N. 129-W. assisted by Mrs. W. A. Some erby, N. N. 3013-R, and Mrs. Joseph Gerrity, N. N. 9613.

The Mather Class

The subject was: "The Twentieth Century God of Machinery."

Century God of Machinery."

Before the lecture began, the class had the pleasure of listening to the splendid baritone singing of Walter Kidder. He sang "Invictus" and "Great Peace Have They."

In the first lecture the discussion dealt with God, the overlord, from whom man recoiled in fear. The second lecture was concerned with the God who is always carefully and benignly looking after those who keep His precepts.

Now we consider the God of Ma-

Now we consider the God of Machinery, who has no attitude at all toward man. Man should, accordingly, neither recoil in fear of God nor approach Him in love. The rain falls on the just and the unjust. The forces of nature are not going to be deflected or diverted so as to help those who call on Jehovah in the right way. Very ancient people had the idea that God was completely in control of everything that went on. According to this notion, man was not the Captain of his soul. He was a mere coal heaver, down out of sight, who did not know where the ship was going or how to get it there.

It is impossible to think of a world

going or how to get it there.

It is impossible to think of a world without a law abiding and orderly administration, operating as the determining and directing force. This Force may be called the curvature of the cosmos by an Elinstein or Jehovah by an Elijah. The question is, what is the nature of this directing force? Is it any use to me? Or is it a perfectly blind mechanism, devoid of purpose?

One theory is that Cod set the universe going, determined its make-up, and is now helpless.

verse going, determined its make-up, and is now helpless.

Another theory is that the universe is self-perpetuating. It always existed and always will.

Reasoning minds find a response in a rational world. It is consistent. Existence is ordered and controlled by rules and regulations. But natural law is not inflexible, except within limits. If the limits are transcended, it breaks down. We are within the limits of natural law. Hence, for us, the law of gravity operates inflexibly and in a uniform manner. So do the cyclones and earthquakes. It does not matter to the earthquake whether a church or a brothel is being shaken down. The moral qualities or momentary occupations of the local inhabitants do not count. To be sure, those men, who are alert and resourceful, suffer less, but nature operates in precisely the same way to all men. It would be a great blessing if we could control our digestive apparatus, our heartheats, or even the unfortunate trouble of hardening of the arteries. Although we are creatures of habit, we do transcend them occasion.

BUICK 7-pass. FOR HIRE BY DAY OR HOUR

NEWTON AUTO SCHOOL ARL PIERCE, Mgr. Tel. N. N. 6098

Some sad pessimists think the universe is a blind mechanism, wholly mechanical. They get this idea from some observation and a small amount mechanical. They get this idea from some observation and a small amount of introspection.

Let us look deeper. We should be glad to find the world consistent. It is good to be able to count on the law of gravity operating in the same way every time. It is fortunate indeed that water expands into steam without failure under certain definite conditions. But the fact that the world operates consistently does not prove that it is nothing but a machine. A machine grinds on consistently. That is uniform action. A consistent personality has uniform method, direction, and purpose. However, the method may change, if necessary. The goal does not change. There is constant adherence to it.

The universe is like personality. There is inflexibility of aim but not of action. In the long struggle for existence along the pathway of life, different emphases have been placed on the most important qualities of life, but a definite thread, that has a purpose, has run through the whole period. This means that different evaluations have been evolved. In the Devonlan age, the amphibians came up out of the mud and breathed with lungs and walked around on the dry land. In the Pre-Cambrian age there was no living cell. The crystal was the important thing then, beautiful but lifeless, perfectly law abiding but without the mysterious qualities we call vital.

Emergent or creative evolution deals with this matter of putting the emphasis on different qualities and in different places at time goes on. The crystal differs from the amphibian and both differ from modern man. Huxley was right when he said that the world is governed by ideas, not gravity or electro-chemical reactions. It assuredly was not governed by ideas in the Pre-Cambrian age. There is a progressively growing plan about the universe, and this is being worked out.

In the Paleozoic age the lowly forms of life, the worms, may have had

In the Paleozoic age the lowly form

In the Paleozoic age the lowly forms of life, the worms, may have had ideas. If they had them then, they have them now, such as they are. It makes a difference what the ideas are, whether they count or not.

The 20th century God of machinery is not the God of Jesus. Some people claim to be Christians and also believe in the God of machinery, but Jesus did not. He made His position clear when He stressed the value of two sparrows and the greater value of human life. God can be definitely helpful to man. We draw power from spiritual reservoirs, but we do not know how. As a man thinketh, so is he.

We can determine our own thoughts. We can think of certain things and not of others and so change our lives. The administration of the universe does help the individual who co-operates with it. There is a way within natural law for the administration to help each man individually in his own time of need. It is not possible for a person here to help an aviator after he has set off across the ocean in a moth plane, for the aviator is caught in the sphere of natural law, which will not cease operating within the limits in which it is supposed to operate. The administration will help man to improve himself. Prayer will be answered if it is the right kind of prayer.

Ever Hear of Clothing Insurance?

It's a Good Policy We Have . . .

Insurance is primarily protection, against loss of one kind or another.

And Insurance has so proved its worth that it has become one of the great American habits.

NOW...Clothing Insurance As Howes Sees It

Insurance against the damage embedded dust and grime do to fabrics and furs

Insurance against loss of "working time" for your clothes Assurance that they'll be ready for use whenever you want them.

Assurance that you'll be kept looking like the proverbial "million dollars" immaculate, well groomed.

If you follow the Howes Policy, that of regular dry-cleaning, done the thorough, painstaking Howes Way you will receive a real principal on your clothing investment. It pays and repays those who take advantage of this policy.

We not only clean every garment perfectly, and press it so that it looks like new . . . we supply that "stitch in time which saves nine", mending all small rips and tears before they can develop into big and unsightly ones. All this without extra charge.

It is an interesting coincidence that Mr. and Mrs. Burt, while of New Eng-land parentage, were both born in the land parentage, were both born in the state of New York, to which the fami-lies had removed. They later met in Northampton, where they were mar-ried Jan. 9, 1861. Most of their mar-ried life was passed in Springfield. Mrs. Burt's mother, Juliet Briggs vas born in Keene.

moved thither from Southampton, Mass. His ancestor Henry Burt was one of the earliest settlers of Springfield. At 15 years of age he left New York state to learn the printing business in the office of the Hampshire Gazette in Northampton. Ten years later he was in Nebraska and for a year was editor of the Bellevue Gazette, one of the first papers printed in the territory.
